Marshall Becomes Defense Secretary, Third in 3 Years

Oath Taken at Pentagon in Private Ceremony; 1945 Mission Is Discussed

Washington, Sept. 21 (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall today became the nation's third secretary of defense and promptly went into a conference with the joint chiefs of staff, leaders of the military services.

Marshall took the oath at a private, early morning ceremony in the Pentagon attended only by five other persons.

A short time later, Marshall's special mission to China in 1945 came under discussion at President Truman's news conference.

The matter was brought up by a reporter who said Marshall, in testifying Tuesday before the Senate Armed Services Committee, had disclaimed personal responsibility for this country's 1946 China policy.

Marshall appeared before the Senate committee at hearings on his nomination to be defense secretary.

The general said then that American policy toward China was worked out in the State Department while he himself was testifying to Congress in December, 1945, on the Pearl Harbor catastrophe. He said the policy was announced while he was on the way to China.

Some newspaper accounts of this testimony were to the effect that Marshall had disavowed the 1945-46 policy.

Truman Comments

Mr. Truman commented today that Marshall wasn't secretary of state at the time he was sent to China.

He said Marshall went over to China as the President's special envoy at the request of the President and the then Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

Marshall, Mr. Truman said, had instructions and they were in writing.

Fair Street Block Will Be Opened

Ernest A. Steuding, public works superintendent, announced at the B.P.W. meeting yesterday that the block on Fair street between Main and John streets, will be open to traffic tonight barring unfavorable weather.

The block is the second on the uptown end of the street to be rebuilt this season. The first block between North Front and John streets was finished earlier in the summer.

Thomas J. Gadd, president and general manager of the Kingston City Transportation Corp., said Broadway and Hackett avenue buses would resume their regular routes over Fair street as soon as the newly paved block is opened.

The buses have been traveling over Clinton avenue on their downtown runs.

Meanwhile, equipment from Willwyck fire station, which has been using the yard of the W. N. Conner funeral home while the block is being repaired, are not expected to return to the station for a few days. Fire Chief Joseph I. Murphy is currently on vacation, and Deputy Chief James Brett said the floor of the station was recently painted and probably will not be dry for two or three days.

Nerves War Stepped Up In Germany

Reds Cut Off Electricity to West Berlin, but to No Avail; Also Lose Territorial Bid

Propaganda Grows

Communist Press Cries for Yanks, Tommies to Go Home

Berlin, Sept. 21 (AP)—East German's cold-war Communists tried to take away land and light from their western confederates today—but flopped on both counts.

At midnight the Reds arbitrarily cut off electric power deliveries to west Berlin, West Berlin got along on its own resources.

Earlier in the night, on the outskirts of the British zone, a half dozen Russian soldiers tried to move their border barriers to annex 175 square yards of territory.

Some 100 British infantrymen turned them back and British officials planned negotiating talks with the Russians to settle the mix-up today.

There were other incidents, also, indicating the Communists were systematically stepping up their war of nerves against allied west Berlin.

1. Several hundred Communists tried to stage an unlicensed street demonstration in the French sector but were scattered by police with fire hoses. About 30 Reds were arrested.

2. East German officials ignored a west Berlin offer that each side release police that had been arrested the day before in a series of 11-hour raids on each other's persons. At the latest count west Berliners have 51 eastern cops in custody, while 25 west Berlin police are under Communist arrest.

Propaganda Stepped Up

3. The Communist press stepped up its propaganda barrage against the west, shrieking cries of "Ami (American) and Tommy (British) go home." On the other side of the ledger, the Russians raised after 14 hours of routine questioning, two American military police they had nabbed yesterday in the border area. The men said they had not been mistreated.

4. Berlin's barge traffic with west Germany remained partially crippled as some 50 barges lay tied up here with their cargoes. The Russians would not clear their crew lists for inter-zonal passage, claiming the lists were out of date. The German skippers declared clearance of new lists would keep them idle for months.

Told to Evacuate

5. East Berlin cold storage houses, keeping goods for west Berlin firms, told the westerners to evacuate. The latter called it "more Communist chicanery." Plans were made to seek American financing for a west Berlin warehouse.

Today's electric blackout try was the second time in three months that the Communists had cut power delivery to the west. They laid their action to disputes over payments. West Berlin authorities branded it as a purely political move.

Conference Is Called

Pittsburgh, Sept. 21 (AP)—Leaders of the C.I.O. United Steel Workers came here today to open a two-day conference which most observers predict will end in wage increase demands for the union's 1,000,000 members. Philip Murray, president of both the C.I.O. and the Steel Workers had no comment before the 36-man executive board began its closed doors session. He already is on record as saying steel companies' profits are excessive. Under the union's present contract with major steel companies, wage provisions may be renegotiated next November 1. If no agreement on the union's demands is reached within 60 days, the union would be free to strike next January 1.

Constitute 75 Per Cent

Gaffney contended that while the union claimed that 29 contractors have signed up for the $1.75 rate in the area under jurisdiction of Local 17, the contractors involved in the dispute here "constitute about 75 per cent of the work."

Marines Meet Stiffer Foe In Seoul; Mystery Column Drives on From Manchuria

Kingston Hospital Plans Expansion

The artist's drawing above shows the greater Kingston Hospital as it will appear when the enlargement and modernization program for which $850,000 is now being sought by public subscription is completed. New wings and additions together with reconstruction of existing facilities will eliminate today's overcrowding and enable the hospital to care for approximately 7,000 patients a year, almost double the number which now can be accommodated.

The project will result in more adequate service to surgical, maternity and emergency patients. Plans include a section for psychiatric treatment and a new department for the care of the chronically ill at minimum cost. More than $100,000 was received in signed subscriptions or in definite commitments to the $850,000 building fund before the campaign officially opened throughout this area last week.

Big Force Is Made Up Of Vehicles

Tanks and Equipment Pour Toward Seoul, as Other Reds Come From Southeast

General Is Sure

MacArthur Displays No Concern, Returns to Tokyo

Tokyo, Sept. 21 (AP)—American marines battled for ancient Seoul today while a Red mystery column was reported rolling down on the Korean capital from Soviet-dominated Manchuria.

The nationality of manpower in the heavily-armed Communist column was not known to U. S. Intelligence officers.

The marines' entry into north-west Seoul's narrow streets was met by stiffening resistance.

Field dispatches reported the tank-led battalions entered the city at 6 p. m. Wednesday (4 a. m. EST) from their Han River crossing eight miles downstream.

The swift allied 10th Corps advanced from the original second front landing beaches at Inchon, 22 miles away, appeared to have reached the lower house-to-house fighting phase. The marines made it from the riverbank into Seoul in 12 hours.

A big battle seemed in prospect. Reds Push In

Besides the threat of the unidentified column of 10 tanks and 200 other vehicles, approaching Seoul from the north, Korean Reds pushed into the city from several other directions. Many were from the old allied beachhead perimeter in the southeast.

General Douglas MacArthur appeared confident. After a visit to a marine sector west of Seoul, he reportedly said the Han River capital, the United Nations command went about the task of pushing back to Tokyo. He had been at the second front since it opened on the Yellow Sea shores last Friday.

Gen. Leonard C. Shepherd, commander of all Pacific front military forces, predicted it would be at least a week before Seoul is safe for an allied victory parade.

Could Make It Tough

"They could have made it tough for us," said Shepherd. "But we're (Continued on Page 14, Col. 1)

Juror's Illness Is Cause of Delay in Picking Alternates

Samuel J. Waters Given Treatment by Doctor; Court to Reopen in Morning

Illness of juror number three, Samuel J. Waters of Shandaken, caused a temporary halt in the Edward H. Kelly, first degree murder trial in county court Wednesday afternoon.

Waters was taken with a stomach disorder which made it necessary for County Judge John M. Cashin to adjourn court until Friday at 10 a. m. Waters was attended by a physician.

Waters, a retired New York fireman, was the first man selected on the jury the second day of the trial, 10 days ago.

With 12 jurors selected, there remain two alternates to be chosen before the opening of the case and the introduction then of testimony.

No estimate has been announced as to the time the trial will take but it is expected The People will take four or five days with the defense following. Lengthy cross-examination may string out the trial much longer.

Medical Testimony Likely

From questions asked by defense attorneys, Charles J. Saccoccio, William A. Kelly and Guido Napoleone, in all probability there will be medical testimony offered to indicate the defendant was not fully aware of the nature of the act, or that he was temporarily insane at the time the crime was committed. Should medical testimony be offered, it will, as is customary, take considerable time.

Action on Esopus Transfer Is Upheld

Interests of Pupils Are Paramount, School Official Says

The determination of District Superintendent Ralph Johnston, transferring nine parcels of land from School District No. 15 to School District No. 13, town of Esopus, has been sustained by acting Commissioner of Education Lewis A. Wilson following an appeal to the commission from the order of the district superintendent.

The appeal was argued before the State Education Commission at Albany July 10, 1950, with Frederick Stang appearing for the residents of School District No. 15 who desired the transfer so that their children might attend School No. 13 in Port Ewen.

Francis Tucker appeared for the appellants, the trustees of School District No. 15, which is located below the hill in Port Ewen.

Commissioner Wilson denied the appeal and sustained the original order of District Superintendent Johnston in an order dated September 11.

The district superintendent made an order transferring nine parcels of land with an assessed valuation of $9,410 from District No. 15 to District No. 13. That order was made with the consent of the trustees of District 13 but without the consent of the majority of the trustees of District 15.

Residents of school district No. 15 had sought the transfer on the grounds of convenience and better school facilities for their children.

Following the order of the district superintendent a public hearing was called at the town hall in Port Ewen for March 31, 1950, to hear objections. That hearing was not attended by the supervisor or the town clerk but there was appearance by the trustees of district 15 and Stang appeared for the owners of property to be transferred.

Tito Says U. S. Should Battle to 38th, Ask Ballot

Yugoslav Premier Gives Approval to Stand in Korea to Keep World Peace

Belgrade, Sept. 21 (AP)—An American congressional delegation quoted Premier Marshal Tito today as saying the United States should fight to the 38th parallel in Korea, then stop and call for a country-wide plebiscite.

The 38th parallel was the boundary which separated western-recognized South Korea from Communist North Korea.

Sen. Pepper (D-Fla.) said the question was raised during a three-hour chat with Tito last night at his private villa on the hills overlooking Belgrade. He said the Yugoslav head man gave the congressmen "frank and forthright answers" on many questions.

Pepper and other members of the delegation said Tito while sticking to an independent stand for Yugoslavia in the Korean conflict, expressed approval of the United States action—and that of the United Nations—in taking an immediate stand against any effort to disturb world peace.

He also was quoted as saying the "entire religious situation" in Yugoslavia is now under review.

Came in Interview

The statement came in an interview from Sen. Pepper (D-Fla.) who along with Sen. Brewster (R-Me.), Rep. Cawley (D-N. C.), and Rep. Hargis (D-Tex.) left by plane today for Trieste after a two-day stay here, which (Continued on Page 27, Col. 7)

22 Strikers Still Picket Grand Street Plant; Issues Not Given

Members of Ulster County Lodge 1562, International Association of Machinists, were still on strike this morning at the Electrol, Inc., plant at 85 Grand street.

Police reported about 22 strikers were picketing the plant, Wednesday afternoon there were 35 pickets out after the employees left their jobs that morning because of a reported wage dispute. The plant's managers are not affected by the strike.

Neither management nor union officials would discuss publicly the issues involved today.

Although a meeting was scheduled between management and labor representatives Wednesday afternoon, apparently no settlement was reached. Albert Rappleyea, president of Local 1562, said this morning there were no new developments. Asked about issues involved, he said he had "no comment."

Benjamin N. Ashton, Electrol president, could not be reached this morning and his office reported he was not expected until Monday. A spokesman said he had "no comment at this time" on issues involved.

Plan to Deny Economic Aid Is Sought by House Leaders

Washington, Sept. 21 (AP)—House leaders probed today for a plan acceptable to President Truman which would deny U. S. economic aid to nations sending war potential goods behind the iron curtain.

They hoped to have it in shape to receive bi-partisan backing today when the House resumes consideration of a $17,000,000,000 Defense Appropriation Bill.

The controversial provision is part of a compromise between differing versions passed previously by both chambers. President Truman voiced yesterday his open opposition, adding to that expressed previously by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, joint chiefs of staff chairman, E.C.A. Administrator Paul Hoffman, and William Green,

President of the American Federation of Labor.

The amendment, sponsored by Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.) says in effect that any nation receiving economic help from the United States shall lose that help if it exports to Russia or her satellites arms or commodities that can be used for military purposes. The ban would apply only while United States forces are "actively engaged in hostilities" to back up United Nations Security Council decisions.

House Republicans and many southern Democrats are strongly in favor of the Wherry amendment. Administration forces had planned for a showdown vote yesterday, but a nose count indicated (Continued on Page 16, Col. 4)

Whistler Believed To Be Prankster, Police Declare

Peas, La., Sept. 21 (AP)—This little Bayou community bustled with excitement today watching for a phantom whistler whose wailing serenades have terrorized an 18-year-old bride-to-be.

Nearly all of the village's 200 population peered out of windows last night while a cordon of sheriff's deputies guarded the home of Jacquelyn Cadow.

For the past few days the townspeople have talked of little except the intruder who threatened the girl's life and vowed to prevent her marriage to a young state trooper. Opinion is divided over whether the nocturnal whistler is a prankster, a would-be killer or a homicide.

His whistle is a shrill interruption of a funeral dirge. State police, who were drawn into the investigation by State Trooper Herbert Belson of New Orleans, Jacquelyn's husband-to-be, said they were stepping out of the case.

"We are convinced it is the work of a prankster," Trooper Vincent B. Lohr said.

Hundreds Are Curious
State Police Sgt. M. J. Khoury said the Cadow home yesterday took on the appearance of a mecca. Hundreds of curious seekers in automobiles paused for a look at the scene of the whistler's visits—a cottage surrounded by moss-draped oaks.

A doctor attended the young bride-to-be who collapsed Tuesday night after she and her mother, her mother's sister and a New Orleans States reporter all said they twice heard the intruder's funeral whistle.

The reporter, Roy Heinicke, joined Trooper Belson in a search of the Cadow yard, but found nothing.

"The family doesn't seem to have any enemies," said Sheriff Leon Vail. "It is either a crazy person or someone close to the family who has something against them that we don't know about."

The girl's mother, Mrs. Clifford Cadow, said it started with whistling whistles last February. Two months ago, when Jacquelyn's engagement to the 24-year-old trooper was announced, the mother said she received telephoned threats.

"I'll kill her. I'll stick a knife in her. Your daughter will never marry Herbert," Mrs. Cadow quoted the caller.

The wedding is set for Oct. 1. "I'll marry Herbert if police have to escort me up the aisle," said Jacquelyn.

May Replace Liners
New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—The American President Lines already is considering replacement of three round-the-world luxury liners taken by the navy before construction was fully completed.

George Killion of San Francisco, president of the line, said confidence in the future led to immediate studies for replacement of the liners. President Jackson, President Adams and President Hayes. The Jackson was launched recently but has not been completely outfitted. The Adams will be launched next month and the Hayes is due off the ways early next year. All are being built at the New York Shipbuilding Corp. yards at Camden, N. J. They were taken over by the Navy Department even as plans were being made for maiden voyages.

Mrs. Sobell Appears
New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Morton Sobell appeared briefly yesterday before a federal grand jury investigating espionage charges against her. Her expert husband, the Queens woman entered the jury room shortly before noon (E.S.T.) and emerged 15 minutes later. Chief Assistant U. S. Attorney Myles J. Lane, in charge of the investigation, declined comment on her appearance before the panel. Sobell, 33, accused of giving American defense secrets to Russia, was arrested in Mexico last month and returned here. He is held in $100,000 bail.

Gabrielson Plans To Check Report

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Guy Gabrielson says he will investigate a published report that one of his assistants made a remark that "Hitler did Germany a world of good."

The aide, Bonner F. Fellers of Washington, D. C., says he was "misquoted entirely."

Gabrielson promised an investigation on demand of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Dewey called on Gabrielson in a telegram last night to dismiss Fellers as a G. O. P. national committee attaché if he made the remark. Dewey said such a remark would be "un-American and despicable" and would not represent any section of the Republican Party.

Gabrielson, wiring to Dewey from Washington in reply, promised the investigation and said: "I join in deploring and disavowing any praise of Hitler as reflecting any opinion of the Republican Party."

Robert S. Allen's syndicated newspaper column from Washington reported yesterday that Fellers made the remark to a group of six anti-Nazi Germans touring the United States.

Fellers Is Quoted
The Allen column quoted Fellers as telling the Germans at G. O. P. national headquarters in Washington:

"I believe Hitler did Germany a world of good. Sure, he did a few bad things. But it was Hitler who rehabilitated the Germans. The only thing wrong with Hitler was that he went too far."

He got the world involved in a war.

The German group is in this country studying democratic institutions and methods.

Gabrielson said he would start his investigation upon Fellers' return to Washington from Columbus, Ohio, today.

Fellers made his denial last night at Columbus, where he had addressed the state G. O. P. convention. Fellers told a newsman he had no further comment at the moment, wanted to study the Allen story and Dewey statement, and might issue a statement in Washington today.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE DAY OF ATONEMENT

On this day, Jews throughout the world meet in prayer on the holiest day of their religious calendar, Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement. It is a day set aside for self-examination. There has been a year of human activity, in which the nature of man has had free play, and on his day, the penitent knows that he has sinned and says so in common confession. There can only be transgression, if there is law. Therefore, the very act of common confession, in a house of worship, among one's family and neighbors, is an acknowledgment of the authority of God's law.

This year, many will ask themselves what the meaning can be of such a day in the continuing horror which faces not only mankind but each family. They thought that they were through with war. They believed that they would no longer live in the dread fear of losing their sons to Goliath. They hoped that somehow, perhaps by means of the United Nations, peoples would learn to live at peace.

Last year, during the Day of Atonement, there seemed to be jubilation in many hearts. The savagery of war was almost forgotten. This year, there will be the usual roll-call of the dead—of those whose young lives were spilled on the hillsides of Korea.

And some will ask: How have I sinned that this has had to happen to me? And others will wonder about retribution and what it can really mean. Can there be a world of love when we seem to plant only the seeds of hate? Can there be a brotherhood of man when we grow with swords and rap with tanks and airplanes?

What makes such things come to pass? Few will confess that it is their own unwillingness to face the truth that there is in this world good and evil; that good is that which abides by the natural law of God; that evil is that which, denying God, leaves life without morality, without justice or right. And that between these two there never can be any compromise.

This we do not like to admit, because it makes life hard and rigid. We prefer an easier way, a live-and-let-live way, appeasing what is obviously wrong, improvising to meet pressures, sacrificing established principles to avoid conflict and dissension. And yet, such a course can only bring in its wake, greater disorder, greater dissension, even war.

Should a news column comment upon such subjects as this? It is not as much news that many millions on this day unite in public confession of transgression as it is that such a creature as Jacob Malik parrots the lies he is instructed to speak—without will, without conscience, without humanity? What is greater news than that all our miseries have not destroyed our faith that justice will triumph and the truth will prevail, if we only follow God's guidance?

Always on this day, I ponder these problems of life. It is good to pause, to rest from all the excitement which surrounds us. It is good to examine not only one's own conduct, but one's communal conduct.

This is such a glorious country in which to live, despite its politicians and tricksters and all the greedy men who scheme and plan. And what do they gain?

In 1943, men in this country have been covering their errors. Those errors have already cost millions of lives consigned to slavery and thousands of lives killed in this current war. But what about those who erred? What about the men of Teheran and Yalta? They have to live with the course of events which they helped to engineer. We may wonder at their motives, but they knew what they were doing, and their colleagues to reduce Poland and China to bondage, to keep Germany in turmoil; to destroy the liberties of Czechoslovakia and Hungary, to imperil our own land by not preventing the war in Asia.

Would that we had a tradition in this country similar to that of the Day of Atonement, so that our politicians, instead of speaking against each other, would rise and confess to their transgressions. Impractical? Has anything in history been more impractical than Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam where errors were made which may take centuries of effort and millions of lives to overcome? The practical men so often do such impractical things. (Copyright, 1950, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

ANGINA OF EFFORT AND AT REST

When the pain known as angina pectoris occurs, it is usually during or following effort and the patient is advised to stop immediately whatever he is doing and the pain will gradually go away. However, a cartoonist has pictured a man lying on a couch who, when the pain came on exclaimed, 'But I wasn't doing anything!'

That angina pectoris may occur when the patient is at complete rest is stated by Dr. Louis A. Soloff, Temple University, in the Journal of the American Medical Association, quoting St. Thomas Lewis, the noted heart authority. Dr. Soloff gives the history of three cases, aged respectively 79, 58, and 48, all of whom had attacks of angina pectoris while resting in bed. He therefore uses the terms angina on exertion and angina during rest.

While angina at rest and angina during effort are due to different heart conditions, the symptoms are the same. Anginal pectoris of decubitus (at rest) is usually long in duration than angina of exertion writes Dr. Soloff. "The patient can talk, will complain of a flushed warm face with fullness in the neck, in contrast to the pallid cold face of angina of effort. Also, in angina of rest, the blood pressure and heart rate are increased during an attack. But, more important, that the differences in symptoms are the differences in treatment. The attack in both types of angina is stopped by nitroglycerin. However, angina of effort or exertion is prevented by getting rid of or abolishing the type of effort that produces the pain. Angina of rest is abolished by cutting down on table salt and by drinking water out of the tissues of the body."

We learn from the above statement of Dr. Soloff that when angina at rest occurs, it is caused by too much work being placed on the heart by the sudden increase in fluid returning to the heart. That is why driving the water from the body tissues by use of drugs gives relief from angina pectoris and also enables the patient to breathe more freely. Naturally he feels more active and his activity will do no harm unless in angina of effort, rest is the important part of the treatment.

Why Worry About Your Heart? Do you get out of breath easily on slight exertion? Does your heart seem to skip beats or beat irregularly? to a training vessel. It was accepted as a sort of last-gasp scheme to keep the President's favorite craft in operation.

Now we're told the Big Mo is in Korean waters blasting away at the enemy shore with everything she's got. She's giving lessons all right—to the North Koreans.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — Congressional memories sometimes are very short. It was only last year that the Senate refused to confirm Carl Hugenroth as chairman of the Munitions Board because he declined to give up his $60,000 salary from the U. S. Steel Corporation.

However, just about the same thing is now happening with two other high officials and nothing is being said about it. They are: 1. E. G. Plowman, another U. S. Steel executive, who gets $66,000 a year from his company while working for Uncle Sam as director of the Defense Department's military traffic service.

2. William H. Harrison, who has just assumed charge of war controls in the Commerce Department while still drawing his salary from International Telephone and Telegraph. The excuse given for permitting men to draw a salary from private industry while working for the government is that it is hard to get good men to serve the government without doing so. This is true in peacetime. But in wartime, when thousands of G.I.'s not only have to give up their jobs but their lives, it would seem that enough patriotic businessmen would be willing to work for a government stipend of $15,000 to $20,000 a year.

Jimmy Roosevelt helped to place the insurance on two housing projects at an air force field at Victorville, Calif. Air force officials state, however, that they had nothing to do with placing the insurance, and that the matter was left entirely in the hands of the private promoters.

There are two housing projects at the Victorville Air Base. 400 homes built by the Victor Valley Housing Corp. and 250 homes built by Mesa Estates. C. O. Moore is the owner of Mesa Estates and also owns 40 per cent of the Victor Valley project. He, being a close friend of Roosevelt's, placed the insurance with the firm of Roosevelt and Sergeant, which in turn acted as the broker in placing the insurance on all 650 homes with various companies.

Johnson's Exit Secretary of Defense Johnson took the news of his dismissal as if he had been struck by lightning. On the morning he was fired, he was cheerfully planning speeches for the American Bar Association, American Federation of Labor and American Legion.

On the morning after he was fired, he put in a routine appearance at his staff conference. General McNamara opened the meeting by saying how shocked they all were at the new development. But Johnson held up his hand and mumbled: "No, no. Not now." Tears welled up in his eyes, and McNamara sat down.

Assistant Secretary of Defense McNamara also tried to say something appropriate. But again Johnson held up his hand. So everyone present stood up, announced there was nothing to report, and solemnly filed out of the room.

Under the Dome After Secretary Chapman finished wiping up the Senate floor with Senator Schoepel of Kansas, the interior secretary attended a cabinet meeting. As he entered the room, President Truman said: "Here comes Joe Louis. Sit down, champ."

Republican leaders had planned to pick out every member of the Truman cabinet one by one and attack them in the Senate. But Senator Schoepel's smear of Secretary of Defense Johnson has backfired so badly that the campaign will be abandoned.

Though President Truman told the press it is "customary" for the secretaries of the army, navy and air force to hand in their resignations when the secretary of defense leaves, these three have agreed to stick together and not resign unless requested. Donald Dawson, an aide to President Truman, is being considered as head of the New York Stock Exchange. About two months ago, Truman called Ex-Undersecretary of State Bob Lovett to the White House and asked him to become Ambassador to the Atlantic Union conference. Lovett literally wept. His doctor had forbidden him to take a job for another year.

Seating Red China British Foreign Minister Bevin has been nursing a plan to get Communist China admitted to the United Nations through action by the General Assembly.

Bevin has worked out his strategy with India's Premier Pandit Nehru. Both are convinced that, although Russia has been negotiating for the Chinese Communists to be admitted to the U.N., actually, Russia is dead against Red China joining the world organization. According to British intelligence, Russia hopes that by keeping China out, she can remain as China's spokesman and appear to the Chinese people to be their one real friend.

Bevin and Nehru are also convinced that Mao Tse-tung and the Kremlin are not getting along well. They hope Mao will become a Chinese " Tito."

Therefore, Bevin and Nehru plan to bring the question of seating the Chinese to a vote before the General Assembly where the veto cannot be used. However, it will probably require a two-thirds vote to seat the Red Chinese and exclude the Nationalists. The British think they can muster the required votes to break the deadlock.

Merry-Go-Round

General Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, took off to rest and work on his memoirs the other day. Immediately fireworks broke loose. First Secretary of Defense Johnson was fired, then the members headed at Incheon, Bradley scurried back to the Pentagon. . . . Three military men have served as secretary of war. Maj. Gen. Henry Knox, an officer in the Revolutionary War, was the first secretary of war, while two Civil War generals—Grant and Sherman—also served as secretary of war. The 959th Infantry, paid $7,000,000 a year to bring pressure on Congress, are heading for home. . . . More than a million tons of steel plate and pipe have gone underground in the last six weeks. . . . part of it bootlegged into the Texas oil fields, where it sells $50 a ton above the market price. . . . Industrialist Willard Rockwell almost let the cat out of the bag when he introduced Senator Byrd of Virginia as presidential timber last week in Pittsburgh. Representatives of the National Tax Association and National Association of Manufacturers have been urging Byrd privately to run for president, but Rockwell wasn't supposed to say anything about it. . . . Congressman Case of South Dakota has been paying for rainmaking experiments out of his own pocket. Due to the heavy expense, he now wants to shift the cost to Congress. # AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Sept. 20 — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt recently wrote an attempt at self-exculpation which plainly is the new line of those who had traffic with Communist fronts during the era when it was "smart to be Red." It is no longer smart in view of the Korean war and ominous portents in Europe. Indeed, considering the preparations to round up Communists and those who associate and sympathize with them, which is legally feasible right now under the precedent of the Jap camps of World War 2, it is downright dangerous to be Red and even to be around them.

Mrs. Roosevelt expresses the new line with a bland claim that the fellow-travelers of the war period "went to meetings and associated with people without knowing much about the people or the association."

Well, there was no excuse for their ignorance in this respect because the Committee on Un-American Activities had developed the facts and Mrs. Roosevelt yielded to nobody in her present meeting against the committee for doing just that. I never went to any such meetings or associated with any such people. I knew they were Reds and I think most of the sorry innocents who now profess to have been done also knew the Reds were Red.

Gradually since the war, the enemies with "many" of the individuals and associations that were quite harmless and acceptable during the war have become dangerous because they are now Communist and therefore subversive. It follows from this then that what you did during the war although entirely harmless in those days may get you into trouble today.

May I point out that this lady's son, Jimmy, is running for governor of California, that his mother is campaigning for him and that Jimmy for a time held a job at $25,000 a year as director of political organization of the Independent Citizens' Committee of the Arts, Sciences and Professions? May I point out that this committee was not "entirely harmless" at any time but was immediately perceived as a Communist front and that whoever joined it and served it and accepted its money had reason to be suspicious and exercise caution? There is a great security these days of persons who expect to be a source of importance by associating themselves with Roosevelt and his wife, to get away from old friends who are Reds. It should not have been necessary although I think it must be granted that most of them were just showing off and that the harm they did was trivial because they were so obviously showing off.

I recall that Billy Rose, who is a professional showman, wrote some time ago that the empress called a meeting of about 75 of her followers, all theatrical people, at which she "confessed" that she had been duped and used.

By "various organizations to which I've lent my name and support." That was "a few years ago." Mr. Rose wrote, which would make the confession very lately even so. But it is a strange fact, viewed against her more recent effort to make herself innocents, that this "confession" and repudiation were confidential to a little circle of about 75. Inasmuch as thousands, possibly several millions, of citizens may have been misled by her example, why wouldn't it have been wiser to make the break in public? "Confession is good for the soul and tonight I have something to confess to all of you," she said, according to Billy Rose. "After thinking it over a long time I've reluctantly come to the conclusion that I've been taken in, duped and used by various organizations to which I've lent my name and support."

"And since most of you are connected with the Independent Citizens' Committee, I want you to know that I consider this particular organization the most invidious and dishonest of them all. I have resigned from it and I've asked that you resign with me. I want you to do the same."

"The lady went on to review the committee and how it was formed in 1941 to foster honest liberalism; how a good many theatrical people, including my untrustworthy servant, had contributed their names and bank-accounts to the organization. . . . how when meetings might come around, most of them had other things to do, how the funds had showed up in force and frenzy, taken over lock stock and gavel and given out press pronouncements which nine-tenths of the members wouldn't have dreamed of endorsing, even in their sleep."

About half of the members present resented this, but the other half, including Howard Lindsay and Russell Crouse, who have the presumption to write plays seriously dealing with our national politics and the presidency and the duty to tell the truth with them on an ignorant public agreed with Mrs. Roosevelt. They immediately set about killing off the committee.

"As of this writing," Mr. Rose concluded, "Alfred H. Prager, it's no longer Lashamable to be a traitor to Times Square. . . . I am not at all sure of that. And Mr. Rose, who could be so naive in joining a front and repudiating unaware of its nature until the empress repudiated it, might be mistaken about the extent of freedom as of now in the theatre business. At any rate, this seems to me to do much to tell the story of permitting Broadway and Hollywood characters to respond "liberalism" and "democracy" in space which obviously was allotted to trickery. They soon thereafter admitted that a liberal is one who says for the least possible trouble to the least possible government, unions and society or that democracy is a self-deceiving monstrosity without limitations or integrity. ## New Twist to 'War'

Lewiston, Me., Sept. 21 (AP)—Lewiston-Auburn filling station operators have given a new twist to gas war techniques. A score or more of "customers" drove into Austin Ellis' Main street station yesterday. Each ordered a gallon of gas and paid with $20 bills. Ellis said most of them were rival operators and that he had been tipped they had been coming. So he had the change ready—all in dimes and nickels. With Ellis selling gas at 23 cents a gallon that meant a lot of coins to count. The result was a 20-minute traffic tie-up on the main artery between the two cities.

Mine Owners to Meet

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—A substantial bloc of soft coal mine owners will meet here today to complete organization of a new group aimed at weakening the bargaining hand of John L. Lewis. In the past, the United Mine Workers chief often has won important gains for his 400,000 soft coal (bituminous) miners by taking advantage of the operators' inability to stick together. Frequently, Lewis signed contracts with one segment of the industry and then forced the remainder to fall in line.

A letter from A. W. Lent, president of the officers of the Library Association, was read at the meeting of the Town Board Friday night together with an itemized list of money spent last year in maintaining the library. Mr. Lent explained the grant of $1,500 from the taxpayers had no restrictions in his giving and it was necessary for the support of the library as very little other money is available. The town board had held back the payment saying the state officials asked for a contract between library and the board. This had never been done in the past. After a discussion W. J. Upright moved the money be paid. This was seconded by J. J. Eganist and the motion carried. ## Battle of Words Waged in Buffalo

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 21 (P)—In a battle of words, a Democratic candidate promised a thoroughgoing streamlining of the state government, while a Republican, seeking state office in November, countered with a claim of "efficient and progressive" Dewey administration.

State Senator J. Raymond McGovern of New Rochelle, C.O.P. candidate for comptroller, and Richard H. Balch of Utica, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, spoke last night at a Junior Chamber of Commerce political night.

Program Is Adopted
McGovern said the "efficient and progressive" Dewey administration has "adopted a program that in 25 years will have eliminated tuberculosis—is anybody in Buffalo against that program?"

"We have set aside more than $241,000,000 to more than double aid to education," McGovern said, "and have provided more public housing than the other 47 states combined. Is anybody opposed to these programs?"

McGovern said the Republicans provided for the construction of the new state Thruway, freed public works funds for new bridges and roads, and at the same time reduced the state's bonded indebtedness "with the exception of the soldiers' bonus, by one half."

Balch Gives Statement
Balch said the Democrats, if elected, would create a non-partisan "Little Hoover Commission" for the purpose of streamlining the state government, and added that both labor and business would be represented on such a group.

Balch gave as an example of wasteful spending what he said was a $1,000,000 appropriation for the State Department of Commerce which he said was used by the Republicans for a "propaganda machine to build up their own ego and to set you in the better job they have been doing."

Balch said the cost of government under the Dewey administration increased proportionately higher than that of any other state.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—Railroad stocks took over leadership of a rising market today.

The advance was slow in getting started and progress was made in halting fashion. Gains running to around $1 a share, though, were liberally distributed through the list.

Early business was unusually slow by recent standards but picked up a little speed as the market started to roll ahead.

Today's rise followed a two-day decline which was accentuated yesterday by a sharp drop in American Telephone, heavy selling hit A. T. & T. and scattered the rest of the market following news of a proposal for a giant financing program for the Bell System.

Telephone stock dropped a little more than $1 a share to $148.12 early today but later the loss was all but wiped out. Yesterday the stock was clipped for $2.62.

Volatile Nickel Plate Railway jumped $3.50 to $141.50 at one time.

Also up were N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania R. R., Southern Railway, Southern Pacific, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Goodrich, J. I. Case, Schenley, Emerson Radio, North American Co., Anaconda Copper, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Westinghouse Electric, American Woolen, Standard Oil, Johns-Manville, U. S. Gypsum, Kern County Land, Motor Products and Colorado Fuel.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, Sept. 21.—Robert Farrell, who resided here with his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard DeLong for a time, has joined the army and is stationed at Fort Bragg with the 30th Airborne Division. Robert's older brother, Joseph Farrell, after serving a four-year hitch in the Marine Corps is now in business at Oakland, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Faulkner of Rockford, Ill., are spending a few days with Mrs. Faulkner's mother, Anner Longyear. The former Ruth Longyear and her husband on their trip east, crossed the border at Detroit and traveled through Canada to Niagara Falls and thus avoided the heavier traffic on mid-western highways. Olaf was employed as an Ashokan Reservoir construction work before leaving Shokan about 35 years ago.

An 80-year-old Sharon Springs couple received only slight injuries when their car crashed into the lobby of the Union Hotel at that place. The car hopped a curb and missed several cars at an intersection, crashed a big tree, went through a concrete railing, bounded through the hotel plate glass window, crossed the crowded lobby and went out through the back door. Lucky oldsters, for a fact.

A local couple, returning from a Sunday trip to the Lackawack waterworks project, reported rough going on the narrow road between Shokan and the clubhouse and lake, but had nothing but praise for the new macadam road through the lake and at "The Gulf." They found the practically unspoiled natural scenery wonderful to behold, and were especially charmed by the numerous mountain ash which bowered their scarlet blossoms from the crags and rocks on either flank of this precipitous mountain pass.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bush of Brown's recently spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Michael Tooley in Englewood, N. J.

Sgt. Carl Andes, Ashokan young man who has been a member of the army air forces for the past several years, is now stationed in Japan. Mrs. Andes and two children are making their home at Ashokan.

Birthdays coming on early next week include that of Louis Thiel, retired Shokan farmer who was born at Hudson, a son of Christopher and Margaret (Shultz) Thiel. He came here with his parents in 1882 and the family home for many years was along the Plank road in Olive (now Ashokan). "Loni" is a boy was a near neighbor and friend of Dr. Abraham C. Thiel, postmaster and resident physician at Ashokan who was a grandfather of Mrs. Elva H. Bogart of Kingston.

William Adair of Neversink was numbered among the out of town Old School Baptists attending services here Sunday. He is a deacon of the local church which was founded in 1799.

Jay Linnist of Highland called on friends in the village center last week. A resident and hard-core dealer in the river town for many years, Jay was brought up in Shokan and attended the Brookside school in the old village. He and his sister, Ella (Mrs. Donald Everett of Kingston), had but a few minutes walk to school down the brook from their farm home the present R. Hossman boardinghouse Jay retains a keen interest in Olive people and events, has been a regular reader of The Freeman since the days, more than half a century ago, when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Linnist took the weekly paper.

Divorcee Marries Negro Tuckahoe, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—The marriage of a wealthy divorcee to a Negro millionaire helper was disclosed here today by the pastor of Shokan Baptist Church, a Negro congregation. The Rev. Charles E. Harrison, a Negro, said he married Mrs. Elmer Stahl to William Thiel on the marriage license he listed her name as Dr. Thiel's said he was 31 and described his color as "black."

Mutual Aid Signed

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—A New York-New Jersey mutual aid pact for civilian defense in event of enemy attack was signed yesterday by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and New Jersey Governor Alfred E. Driscoll. Action by the two state legislatures will be needed to put the compact into legal form, but Dewey declared "It is operative today. You don't have to wait upon law in an emergency." "We won't guarantee that the agreement we signed is legal," Dewey added. "But it is going to work, and the people of the two states are going to have its protection."

Two Craft Are Torpedoed

Portland, Eng., Sept. 21 (AP)—Two pleasure craft were torpedoed and sunk by a Royal Navy mine sweeper today—by accident. The torpedo, with a dummy warhead, went amok in Portland harbor after being fired by the crew from a navy range. It tipped through two boats moored at the Castle Cove Sailing Club. Both craft went to the bottom. The runaway torpedo finally ran up on shore and was recovered. The admiralty said it had no estimate of the damage.

Russia Is Beaten
Trying to Prevent
Charges by China

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—Russia was defeated today in an attempt to prevent consideration by the U.N. General Assembly of Nationalist China's charges that the Soviet Union aided the Chinese Communists to power.

The assembly's 14-nation steering committee defeated the Russian move 11 votes to two. The negative votes were cast by the Soviet Union and Czechoslovakia, India, and a tie vote. Nationalist China's charges against Russia first were raised at the 1949 assembly session.

Russia also was defeated, 12 to two, on its efforts to keep the old Greek-Balkan question off the assembly's agenda. A Russian objection to opening the Spanish question to assembly debate was not decided immediately.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky raised his objections in the steering committee, which proceeded rapidly with its task of working out the agenda for the assembly's fifth session.

The steering committee began plotting the assembly's work after Secretary of State Dean Acheson submitted a four-point plan to give the assembly military power to combat aggression anywhere in the world.

During committee argument on China, Vishinsky referred to the Chinese Nationalists as "phantoms and ghosts" who have no legal right to be heard as representatives of the Chinese people. The Nationalists, he declared, are "ghosts who have been thrown on an historic garbage heap."

Blames U. S.

Vishinsky said there is an issue of threats against China but only because "of the aggressive acts of the United States." This was a reference to President Truman's order to the U. S. Seventh Fleet to patrol the Strait of Formosa to prevent a spread of the Korean war throughout the Orient.

The Russian move in the committee marked the second time in the three-day-old session of the Assembly that the Chinese representation question has received attention. Upon its opening Tuesday the Assembly defeated Russian-Indian resolutions designed to oust the Chinese Nationalists from the U.N. and give their seats to the Chinese Communists.

The Greek-Balkan question is an old one.

John Foster Dulles, Acheson's Republican adviser, described the new Acheson plan as "the most important proposal for international peace and security put forth" since the end of World War 2. It will be Dulles' job to push it through the 59-nation Assembly.

Loaf Is Not Loaf

Matlock, England, Sept. 21 (AP)—In Britain a loaf of bread, sliced, is not a loaf of bread. The Matlock Magistrate's Court so ruled in the case of a bakery charged with selling underweight loaves. The loaves were sliced and wrapped. "Sliced bread," said Defense Attorney C. N. Glyndwell, "has been a loaf at one time. But once sliced it ceases to be a loaf. It is not, therefore, subject to the minimum weight rules of the Food Ministry." The court agreed and dismissed the charge.

Truman Says Steps Underway to Meet High Living Costs

Washington, Sept. 21 (AP)—President Truman said today he is concerned about the high cost of living and he is working on plans to meet it.

He told a news conference he will act as speedily as possible but is trying to avoid the mistakes of the last World War.

The President said his administration does not want the nation to go through the travail of the last price control period when it had to follow the road of trial and error.

Mr. Truman was asked about wages not going up and prices rising fast. He said he agreed this was so and he is working on a plan.

Commenting on a statement made yesterday by Gov. Chester B. Bowles of Connecticut, former O.P.A. administrator, favoring selective price controls, the President said that is being discussed but no decision has been reached.

Endorses Attack

Mr. Truman endorsed the attack by his special assistant, Averil Harriman, on Senator Taft (R-Ohio) in a speech before the A.P.L. convention in Houston, Tex. Harriman accused Taft of furthering "the designs of the Kremlin" by his voting record on foreign policy.

Will Name Early Replacement

The President said a new deputy secretary of defense to succeed Stephen T. Early, resigned, will be appointed as soon as possible and he is still looking for men to fill posts under the Economic Control Act.

Mr. Truman predicted the foreign ministers meeting in New York will attain their objectives before they are through. He said they are making great progress. Asked what U. S. policy will be on whether to go beyond the 38th parallel in Korea in cleaning up Korean Communists, the President said that is a question for the United Nations since the forces opposing the Korean Reds are a U.N. organization.

He added he will abide by the decision of the U.N.

He said the anti-Communist bill just passed by Congress has not reached him yet, but he will not keep anyone in suspense very long about his position on it. A veto has been predicted.

Reminded that a group of foreign correspondents were attending the news conference, Mr. Truman said he was more than happy to hear that. He said he expected to meet them after the conference and ask them how they liked the greatest show in Washington. (The President's weekly news conference.)

Bill Goes to White House

Washington, Sept. 21 (AP)—Congress has sent to the White House legislation which would increase from $5,000 to $10,000 the amount of federal insurance on individual bank accounts covered by the government.

Oatmeal in the Danish manner is an appetizing and economical way to start the day. Use either the quick-cooking type or the old-fashioned rolled oats for the oatmeal. Heap the oatmeal in cereal bowls and bring it to the table piping hot. The Danish accompaniments are pairs of fortified margarine, brown sugar and rich milk or light cream.

Place a pat of fortified margarine on top of each bowlful of oatmeal, sprinkle with brown sugar and then add the milk. The delicious margarine and brown sugar melt into the hot oatmeal to create a new flavor certain to find favor with all members of the family.

For dinner prepare Frikadellar, a Danish version of meatballs. It uses pork shoulder, a budget meat item.

Frikadellar

(4 servings)

One pound pork shoulder (ground twice), 1/2 cup fine bread crumbs, 1/2 cup fine bread crumbs, 1/2 teaspoon marjoram, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon grated onion, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons milk, 2 tablespoons fortified margarine. Gravy: 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk or light cream.

 Place the ground pork in a mixing bowl. Add bread crumbs, marjoram, salt, pepper, grated onion, egg and milk. Beat this mixture vigorously with a spoon until it sticks together in one large ball.
 Divide the meat into 8 or 12 portions and shape with your mixing spoon by rolling the meat against the sides of the bowl. Your meat balls will then be walnut-shaped. Melt margarine in a skillet and brown the Frikadellar on each side. Cover and cook over low heat for 30 minutes. Turn the Frikadellar once while cooking.
 Make gravy by adding flour to the drippings. Stir until the flour and drippings are thoroughly blended. Add milk and continue to stir and cook over low heat until the gravy is gently bubbling. Let simmer slowly one minute.
 Arrange the Frikadellar on a platter with glazed onions and garnish. The gravy is served separately.
TOMORROW'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Concord grapes, hot oatmeal (Danish style), bacon muffins, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Griddle cakes with raspberry jelly, butter or fortified margarine, banana and chopped peanut salad, plain-over orange cake with custard sauce, tea, milk.
DINNER: Frikadellar (Danish meat balls), glazed onions, chopped spinach seasoned lightly with mace, mashed potatoes, gravy, rolls, butter or fortified margarine, fresh peach gelatin, cookies, milk.
Sweet Mashed Potatoes
 Sweeten mashed sweet potatoes with honey and add seedless raisins that have been soaked in boiling water for five minutes and then drained. Spoon into a casserole and bake in a moderately hot oven for about 20 minutes.

Tarrytown to Get Water

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—Water Commissioner Stephen J. Carney approved yesterday the emergency use of New York city water by the village of Tarrytown, N. Y., where there is a water shortage. The approval will make city water available through a pipeline connection with North Tarrytown, one of several communities that regularly use city water. Approximately 500,000 gallons daily will be available for Tarrytown during the emergency period. The city supply continued to show a decline, losing 755,000,000 since yesterday. This brought storage to 196,072,000,000 gallons, 77.5 per cent of capacity, a drop of three-tenths of one per cent. A year ago, the reservoirs held 150,159,000,000 gallons, or 59.3 per cent of capacity.

Atomic School Attended
 Albany, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—Representatives of eight northeastern states attended "school" here today to study the effects of atomic radiation on food and drugs. More than 150 food and drug inspectors were expected for the "briefing," sponsored by the Emergency Council of Food and Drug Officials of the Northeastern States. It continues tomorrow. Council President Shelby T. Gray of Boston said a similar conference would be scheduled later for about 40 chemists from the same states. The program is part of a civilian-defense program being developed to cope with an atomic attack in this section of the United States.

Forced by North Koreans
 With U. S. Second Division, Korea, Sept. 21 (AP)—A 16-year-old expectant mother surrendered to the Americans today and said she had been forced by the North Koreans to act as a spy.

New Camera Unveiled

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—A new movie camera taking 10,000,000 pictures a second may help scientists study the atomic explosion. The camera was unveiled yesterday at the fifth National Instrument Conference, Brian O'Brien, director of the Institute of optics, University of Rochester, who demonstrated it, says the new camera will help physicists study events occurring in the tiniest fraction of a second, which could not have been studied before, and added: "It can catch the details of the early stages of an atomic explosion." Like other high-speed cameras, this one has no shutter, but unlike the others it requires no special lights and uses instead a system of lenses and prisms.

Work Asked for Refugees

Tel Aviv, Israel (AP)—The Israeli government wants work substituted for relief measures to help Arab war refugees in this country. That position was outlined here by Major-General Howard Kennedy, director of the U. N. Relief and Work Agency, by Foreign Minister Moshe Sharett and other government leaders. Arab war refugees in Israel presently number 28,000. There are also 3,000 Jews classed as refugees of the 1948-49 Palestine war.

Prices Omitted

Due to an oversight, prices of admission to the Lowlands Riding Club of Kingston Horse Show and Field Day to be held Sunday, September 24, were omitted from the advertisement appearing in Wednesday's publication. The prices are adults 60 cents, children 30 cents, including tax.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

In seeking a word to describe the interval that lies close ahead of us, I think "hiatus" fits accurately.

According to the dictionary, hiatus means "a space where something is lacking; a break, or gap."

Certainly, in the weeks remaining in 1950 there will be a void where many things are lacking.

Turn to any one of the plans and programs having to do with remobilization and you find this hiatus.

For instance, inflation controls start out with mealy-mouthed restrictions that will serve only to emphasize the need for tight reins to keep the litters of coins from running away. Token moves have been made by the Congress (in the Defense Act) and by the banking authorities, which are warning perhaps that something has got to be done to stop the inflation—but it is a fairly safe prediction that these token actions will not be enough. Because of politics and the politician's fear to do anything that might divorce votes the Congress enacted a control law that, if put into effect, would confuse more than it would control. Thus, if during the hiatus prices continue to rise, and if the unions exploit the present situation for all it's worth in getting pay increases, we can rest assured that "all-out and all-over" controls will have to be instituted in place of the present piece-meal plan.

There is one psychological development that may prevent the inflation from getting out of hand, while the hiatus exists: that is, there may be an intermediate drop in the inflationary trend, due to the improving war situation in Korea, and because the rush to buy goods will subside.

From the war-production viewpoint, another hiatus is in view. It will take several weeks, perhaps months, according to reports before any large-scale rearmament orders will be actually in production. So, for the time being we may get the idea that things are not going to be so tough after all. The thought may spread that mobilization means that "business-as-usual" can be conducted without serious interruptions. This, obviously, is an illusion that we might well keep in mind. In fact, a contrary outlook indicates that the rearmament program when it is under full pressure (say, next winter or spring) will absorb a larger proportion of industrial production than has been publicly announced. Some analysts think that we may see 20 per cent, or better, of industrial production taken over by war work. This is a large slice and certain to cause curtailment of business-as-usual consumer production.

A third hiatus may have to do with the war outlook. The Korean situation brightens, with the thrilling landings near Seoul. Thus, the situation becomes most significant. Will the Russians or Red China offer aid? Will Red China hold off until she learns if she is to be admitted to the United Nations? Finally, if the North Koreans receive no outside aid, then the war will be much shorter than has been calculated heretofore.

Now couple this development with the appointment of General Marshall as defense secretary and we get another hiatus, as I see it, a political hiatus while it is decided whether to "forget" Asia and concentrate on western Europe. Marshall and Acheson are "European-minded," not China- or Korea-minded. In consequence, there may well be a break in our firm policy while this problem is resolved. (It would be more accurate to say "firm policy" perhaps as our foreign policy has not been "firm" for many years.)

These are some of the "spaces" where something is lacking" with which we shall have to contend over coming weeks.

However, to be realistic we should bridge this hiatus in our own minds and recognize that we are running into a stiffer period when the hiatus is over. We do not face a more encouraging economic or war era, in 1951, but a more serious one. No mention has been made about taxes, for instance, but another hiatus exists in that direction also—as taxes will have to go much higher.

So let us gird ourselves for an all-out fight and not be misled by a temporary period of seeming mildness and comfort.

Electric Workers
Seek Shorter Week

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—The United Electrical Workers Union (Ind.) wants a 30-hour work week to make up for what it calls an "unparalleled speedup" in industry during the past several years.

A resolution asking for the shorter work week, with pay for 40 hours, was unanimously adopted yesterday at the union's 15th annual convention.

The resolution referred to "fantastic and ever-rising profits" for employers through increased productivity of workers aided by technical improvements.

The technical improvements, the resolution added, were "a curse rather than a blessing to the workers." The 30-hour week is needed, it said, to make jobs for the unemployed.

The U.E. was ousted from the C.I.O. on the ground it was Communist dominated. The C.I.O. set up a rival union, the International Union of Electrical Workers (I.U.E.).

Other U.E. convention resolutions asked:

Federal old age pensions starting at $125 monthly for those over $60; a $1 per hour minimum wage; a federal program to build 2,000,000 low-cost housing units each year; equal pay for equal work by women; and their protection from "nervous and physical exhaustion" in jobs; and guarantees against any kind of discrimination in employment.

The union reelected three officers: President, Albert J. Fitzgerald, for a 10th term; Secretary-Treasurer, Julius Emspak, for the 15th time; and organization secretary, James J. Matles, for a 14th term.

Each official is elected for one year.

Statistics reveal that the average mental age of the United States is that of a 14-year-old youngster.

Marines Meet . . .

on the north bank of the river and we're going to stay there."

Shepherd returned to Tokyo with MacArthur in the general's new "Consolidation" staff plane, "Soap," on his way back to Honolulu.

AP Correspondent Russell Brines reported the marines' entry into Seoul's northwest outskirts. Brines said another marine armored column swept over Seoul's nearest satellite airfield across the Han and was driving toward three partly wrecked bridges across the Han.

Brines also relayed the 10th Corps intelligence report on the mysterious armored force speeding out of the Red China border city of Antung in Manchuria.

Relayed to General

The report was relayed to General MacArthur just before he left for Tokyo. Brines returned with him. A MacArthur spokesman said the general was not called back by any emergency.

Plots spotted the Red column 20 miles south of the Yalu river, Korean boundary 210 miles north of Seoul. It was reported Thursday morning to be possibly below the 38th parallel dividing North and South Korea. This would put the column less than 30 air miles from Seoul.

Five divisions of North Koreans which invaded South Korea June 25 were reported to Communist China's Manchurian armies. They fought with Russian-made tanks and other arms. But with the allied offensive in the south picking up steam, the Reds appear unable to muster much organized strength from that direction.

Would Push Threat

The column from the north—if it reaches Seoul intact—would pose the gravest threat.

Reds in the south were reported withdrawing, changing into civilian clothes and deserting or surrendering. And many others seemed on the verge of surrendering.

A major battle for Seoul's dusty and narrow streets might destroy a large part of the 500-year-old capital. The city of 1,000,000 is a mass of closely packed one- and two-story mud-covered wooden structures.

To cut off effective reinforcements for the city from the south, the U. S. Seventh Division drove for the last line of ridges overlooking the highway from Seoul to Suwon. Peasants plaidly gathered in the harvest in the rice paddies.

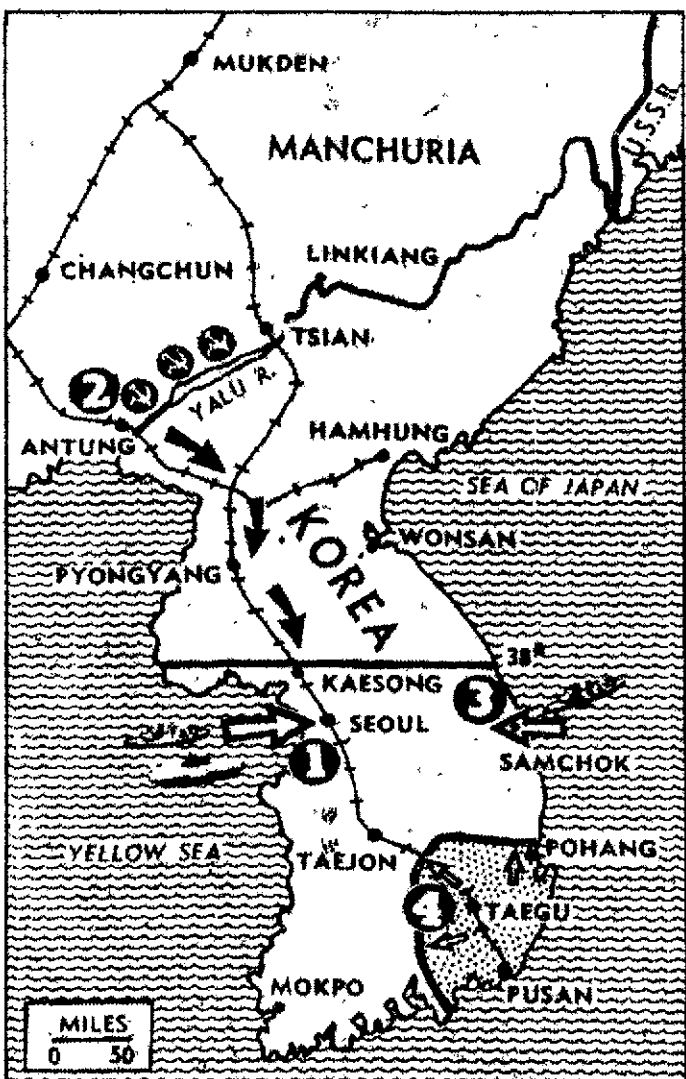

The harvest of Korea's staple food was one factor in the timing of the allies' all-out effort to crush the Reds. South Korean spokesmen had repeatedly emphasized the importance of the harvest.

Was Big Push

A.P. Correspondent Belman Morin said the drive on the capital from the northwest was a big push "like the big ones near the end of the last war."

Reds captured on the Han north bank, Morin added, report-

New Threat

A tank-led Red column of 200 vehicles was reported moving toward Seoul (1) from Antung, Manchuria (2). Latest reports placed the column at Kaesong, just south of the 38th parallel and only 35 miles from Seoul. Another U.N. beachhead was established when South Korean marines landed at Samchok (3). Other U.N. troops continued to advance all along the old Taegu-Pusan beachhead (4), while U.N. invasion forces neared Seoul from the Inchon beachhead.

ed they had been pressed into battle only five days previously. This was shortly after the United Nations started landing a 40,000-man liberation force at Inchon last Friday.

On the old United Nations beachhead in the southeast, the main actions were in the Waegwan sector, 140 miles southeast of Seoul.

U. S. First Division troops and South Koreans forged a trap on 5,000 Reds of the third and 13th divisions northeast of Waegwan, and the U. S. 24th Division drove three miles northwest of the town.

AP Correspondent Ben Price reported Reds fled or surrendered after the 24th took a strategic hill over a railroad tunnel near Waegwan. The hill dominates the road to Kimchon, 20 miles north-on Chogyo, on high ground six miles west of the river.

In the U. S. 25th Division sector the Reds were thrown back west of Kangju, seven miles northwest of Haman, but they slowed the American advance.

Haman was the high-tide mark of the Communist sweep from the north. It carried them within 35 air miles of the southeast port of Pusan.

Will Hold Conference

Moscow, Sept. 21 (AP)—Russia's "Partisans of Peace" will hold a conference next month to discuss the Soviet people's "struggle for peace against the instigators of a new war," it was announced today. The meeting is scheduled for Oct. 16-18. Also on the program, according to the announcement, are the election of delegates to the second International Congress of Peace Partisans and the election of a Soviet Committee for the Defense of Peace.

Boy, 6, Is Hurt In 3-Car Crash

Henry Langley, 6, of 16 Hills-worth avenue, was injured yesterday as he stood on the sidewalk during a three-car collision at St. James and Fair streets.

The report at 4:55 p. m., said the car of Joseph Weishaupf, of Stone Ridge, headed west on St. James street, was crossing the intersection, when it was in collision with one driven by Mrs. Arthur London, 52 Lounsbury Place, headed south on Fair street.

The latter car, said the report, carried off the Weishaupf car and struck one driven by James Goughan, 147 Fairview avenue, headed east on St. James street "and halted at the stop sign."

Mrs. London was to be treated by a doctor for shock, the report said, and the porch, shrubbery, lawn, leader pipe and front of the house of Herman J. Schaffer, 122 Fair street, were damaged, the report said.

The injured boy was standing near the curb with his mother at the intersection, in the path of the Weishaupf car which jumped the curb in the collision, the report said. The boy was taken to the Benedictine Hospital for examination and X-rays.

Violation Is Reported

Prague, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 21 (AP)—Albania has charged that Greek planes violated her frontier four times on Sept. 3 and 18. Such flying dispatches published here today, Albania said so in a note that her deputy foreign minister, Mr. Prifti, sent to Secretary-General Trygve Lie of the United Nations. The note urged that the U.N. tell Greece "it is desirable to put an end to this dangerous war-practice."

Forgot Her Nightie

Copenhagen, Denmark, Sept. 21 (AP)—A beautiful, young and shapely model strolled across the stage during a fashion show in Odense last night, showing a housecoat and nightgown. The housecoat was handsome. The model, with a fascinating smile, threw open the housecoat to display the nightgown to the audience. There was a gasp and then vigorous applause. She had forgotten to don the nightie.

Social Security Law Provisions

In previous articles, George J. Johnson, manager of the Kingston Social Security Office, described the social security law as your policy for old-age and survivors insurance and your social security card as the symbol of that policy. Perhaps you are among the millions now protected by this program. It may be that you are among the more than three million now receiving monthly insurance payments under this law. If you're among the latter, your September check, scheduled to reach you early in October, will show the increased payments given you under the newly amended social security law.

How much will your increase be? Well, to be fair to you and the other current beneficiaries serviced by the office, I would have to give about 2,000 answers to that question. There are that many people now getting old-age and survivors insurance payments in this area.

Obviously, I can't be specific. We must ask you to be patient and wait until your September check reaches you in early October. That check will tell you in dollars and cents just how much your benefit payments have been increased.

I do want to say, however, that increases range from about 50 per cent for highest benefit groups to about 100 per cent for low benefit groups. For example—the average benefit of approximately $25 per month for a retired insured worker will be increased to about $38. If you are now getting $40 a month in payments as a retired worker your September check will be for about $64.

Family benefits will be increased also. For instance, the present maximum family benefit of $85 will be $150 under the new law. A widow with two children now receiving $55 monthly will get about $110 under the new law. Each of these increased payments to wives, parents, widows, and dependent children must be figured individually. The amounts of these increases will depend largely on the amount of the insured retired worker's enlarged benefit. In no case will increased family benefit payments exceed eighty per cent of his average monthly wage.

Under the 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act, social security wage credits will be given for active service in the armed forces of the United States during World War 2. These wage credits may be used in determining the amount of insurance payments to the veteran and his family when he retires; to the family of a service man or woman now deceased; and to the family of a veteran if he should die. The amendments give World War 2 veterans wage credits of $160 for each month of military service performed during the war period. However, the wage credits will not be given if a benefit based in whole or in part upon the veteran's military service during World War 2, other than a benefit paid by the Veterans' Administration, becomes payable under another federal system.

Survivors of World War 2 veterans who are receiving Social Security benefits will receive the increased amount automatically but survivors who did not previously qualify should apply at once, bringing with them proof of length of service.

Next week, Mr. Johnson will discuss agricultural labor under the new law.

Seven Plan Descent Of Iceland Glacier

Reykjavik, Iceland, Sept. 21 (AP)—Six men and a girl, marooned seven days atop a 6,000-foot glacier after their Icelandic Airline Skyliner crashed, prepared today to descend the frozen peak by ski and jeep.

A U. S. Army ski plane which was to have flown the survivors off their icy perch yesterday crashed in an attempted takeoff. No one was hurt, but the plane's ladder and wingtip were broken.

A ground party, which worked its way up the glassy slopes of Vatnajokull glacier yesterday, will guide the survivors and their would-be air rescuers down the peak. The trip, which will be made with the aid of skis and jeeps, will take two days.

The Skyliner crew included a young stewardess, who was slightly injured in the crash. The plane, en route from Luxembourg to Reykjavik, carried a cargo of 10 sled dogs.

Volunteers Are Sought

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—A total of 210,000 New Yorkers were asked today to volunteer as air raid wardens and auxiliary policemen and firemen in the city's civilian defense organization. City Director of Civil Defense Arthur W. Wallander asked citizens to go to the nearest police and fire stations and prepare to begin training immediately. Acting Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri seconded Wallander. "There is no cause for alarm," said the acting mayor, "for we are far safer when our enemies know that we are prepared."

More for Love

Tampa, Fla., Sept. 21 (AP)—City officials have been asked to install a street light on Love avenue. Residents complained it is used more for love than it is for an avenue.

Medium or Small Size Eggs Best At This Season

"Medium or small size eggs are the ones to buy at this season of the year," says Everette Parsons, county home demonstration agent. Spring chickens begin producing during the late summer. While these birds are growing they lay small and medium size eggs. These eggs are increasing in supply and the price in relation to large is favorable.

Government standard for eggs make it possible for homemakers to make their own price comparisons before buying. Large size eggs must weigh at least 24 ounces a dozen. Mediums must weigh at least 21 ounces, and small eggs at least 18 ounces a dozen. If homemakers can buy medium eggs for less than 3/4 the price of large eggs they are a better buy. Small eggs are a better buy if they are less than 3/4 the price of large eggs.

Recipes using eggs are generally based on medium size eggs. Seven medium eggs equal six large eggs. It takes about seven small eggs to equal six medium ones.

The Home Bureau reminds homemakers that the grade of the eggs purchased also makes a difference in the price paid. She advises homemakers to buy the grade according to what the eggs are to be used for. For cooking in the shell, frying, poaching or deviling Grade A is usually most satisfactory. For such things as general cooking, cakes, omelets, scrambling and salad dressing Grade B eggs are just as acceptable and usually cost less. There is no difference in food value between the two grades.

The Home Bureau goes on to say that it is important to pay attention to how eggs are handled in the store. Eggs should be bought from stores where they are kept refrigerated.

Eggs left for four days in a warm store or kitchen (temperature between 70 degrees F. and 80 degrees F.) lose as much "freshness" as eggs kept for sev-

Mayor Answers

Sept. 5, the mayor said, and prior to Sept. 1, Lincoln street was resurfaced and Hooker and Kingston streets were resurfaced over their full length. Maintenance had been done on other streets, he said, and Ernest A. Steuding, public works superintendent, said that work on 50 per cent of the mileage involved, was finished at the time the petition was presented.

Needs 'Clarification'

"There is one phase of the petition, which I think should be clarified," the mayor said. When the B.P.W. on Feb. 6, approved the $75,000 for highway purposes, Gross, Maple and Stuyvesant streets were not included on the list (this means that no part of the sum could be used there)—and also I believe there is misunderstanding among signers of the petition where it says, "and hereby petition the B.P.W. and the mayor to discontinue diverting funds . . . and to immediately commence the repair of the following streets."

The mayor stressed that "At no time were funds diverted for anything other than capital improvement, and that as of today, the only money used for capital improvement as authorized by the Common Council through the B.P.W., was the dividend, the repair and widening of Four street, and the next to be undertaken, the resurfacing of the East Chester street by-pass."

Couldn't Tell Conditions

When the original resolution, for the bond issue proposal was submitted in February, he said, "a list of streets was included, but at that time of year we are unable to determine conditions . . . to the extent of what damage might be done before spring." It is therefore necessary for the B.P.W. to submit to the Common Council the names of the streets which it might become necessary to reconstruct during the summer. There will be as many reconstructed as allowed by money appropriated by the Common Council.

During the past ten years, the mayor said, only $10,000 was appropriated for the maintenance of approximately 100 miles of streets.

$50,000 earmarked

In the 1930 budget, he said, $50,000 was earmarked for maintenance, although it is an impossibility to repair all streets for $50,000 "when heretofore only $10,000 a year was appropriated for the purpose for ten years."

If the Common Council and the B.P.W. see fit, he announced, another $50,000 will go into the next budget. "So that the B.P.W. will be able to continue repairing the streets at a greater rate in two years than in the ten years prior to 1930."

Asked if there were any streets on the Fourth Ward list which "hadn't been touched," Superintendent Steuding said there were none.

Will Get Them Done

The mayor said he fully appreciated the fact that there were a lot of streets that were rough and badly in need of repair, but he added, "I think we're on the right road toward getting them done."

The board was notified of the termination of service as engineer's aides, grade 1, of Charles L. Vogt, Jr., 24 Park street; James F. Cooney, 45 Abbey street; Philip A. Mohr, 114 Spring street; and Donald R. Hammond, 128 O'Neil street. They had work during the summer with City Engineer Arthur J. Hallinan.

Requests for street lights on Ann street, between East Union and Mill streets; Meadow, between Ann and Chambers, and Murray, between Chambers and Hasbrouck avenue, were referred to the lighting committee and requests for street signs on Boulevard Place, Conde and Albert streets, were referred to Superintendent Steuding.

Held on Check Charges

Gabriel Brancato, Rosendale contractor, was arrested Wednesday by County Identification Officer Leonard Belmont on two warrants, one for non-payment of wages and one of issuing fraudulent checks. The complainant was Fred Mertine of Rosendale. Brancato was turned over to Officer Belmont at Catskill on being released from the Greene county jail where he had been held on similar charges. Taken before Justice Edward Brodsky of the town of Rosendale, Brancato was held in $100 bail on each charge for a hearing Friday at 6:30 p. m.

Juror's Illness Is

not indicated how many witnesses he may call, but since the shooting took place on a busy street during the morning hour when many people were on their way to work, there were a great many who were at the scene immediately following the shooting. The prosecution has one eye witness, William T. Leonard of 50 Highland avenue, who was driving his car behind the car carrying Kelly at the time of the shooting.

Names of Jurors

The twelve jurors who will hear the case are: Mrs. Mabel McDole, Ellenville; Miss Alice E. Henderson, Woodstock; Samuel J. Waters, Shandaken; Adrian Hulse, Wallkill; Lottie Shultz, Bearsville; Edward F. Brown, Kingston; Amy Malone, Sawkill; Enicella May, Kingston; Christian Potters, Highland; Homer DuBois, Slighsburg; Paul F. Fischer, Maple Hill; Charles Kavanaugh, Rosendale.

Of the panel of 50 extra jurors drawn for Thursday afternoon, approximately 15 were retained. It is expected there will be no further need of extra jurors. To date a total of 388 men and women have been summoned as prospective jurors at this term.

Broadway Misses Will

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—The death of a doorman saddened Broadway theatrical circles today. He was smiling, little Will H. Cohen, 73, stage door guardian at the Music Box Theatre, unofficial "Mayor of 45th Street," a star in many legends and a friend and confidant of the great. But his epitaph from stage folks was: "A great little guy, always ready to help us when we were broke." He died of a heart attack yesterday on a subway train en route to his Long Island City home. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. George A. Clark, of Long Island City, and a brother, Lewis, of Miami, Fla.

Plan to Deny . . .

they could not knock the amendment from the bill. So they put off a final decision until today and Chairman Cannon (D-Md.) of the Appropriations Committee told newsmen, he would have a compromise ready this afternoon.

Just what the compromise would provide, Cannon did not say. But he emphasized that it would "vitalize" (make ineffective) the Wherry amendment.

If it does, House Republican

Leader Martin of Massachusetts said, the G.O.P. forces won't accept it.

Indications were that a final compromise might authorize the Economic Cooperation Administration to cut off aid to foreign nations when, in the judgment of the National Security Council, those nations are sending to Russia or her friends articles or commodities that are being used for military purposes.

The President urged elimination of the Wherry amendment in a letter to Cannon. He sent a similar one to Chairman Mc-

Kellar (D-Tenn.) of the Senate Appropriations Committee.

General Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, complained about the "mandatory language" of the amendment. Hoffman said it would be unworkable, while A.F.L. President Green said it would "play into the hands of American enemies."

The Wherry amendment is one of eight still in dispute between the Senate and the House, but the others are far less controversial. Thirty-six others were cleared up yesterday by the House.

defense was administered by Felix Larkin, general counsel of the Defense Department. A Defense Department announcement first said that only Stephen Early, the retiring deputy secretary of defense, was present in the secretary's office for the ceremony.

Later Osgood Roberts, acting director of public information, changed his announcement to say that in addition to Early and Larkin, there were present Major C. H. Hilo, Hawaii, in 1881.

A George Marshall's aide, an official military photographer, and himself.

There was no explanation for the change in the announcement regarding a ceremony which from first had been clothed with some mystery.

Two Are Elected By Palsy Society

Mrs. George Clark of the Plunk road and Dr. Henry L. Bibby, president of the local group, were honored at the recent annual meeting of the New York State Cerebral Palsy Association at the Hotel Mark Twain in Elmsira.

Mrs. Clark, first vice president of the Ulster county association, was elected corresponding secretary for the state group while Dr. Bibby was one of two men elected as directors of the United States Palsy Association.

During the annual meeting the Ulster county unit was highly commended for its work in the city and area.

Also attending the meeting were Mrs. Bibby and Miss Mary Keresman, secretary of the Ulster county group.

Husbands are reported to score about 300 per cent more than wives, and are more inveterate sleep talkers.

May Borrow $100,000,000

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Sept. 21 (AP)—Responsible western sources said Yugoslavia soon may be allowed to borrow more than $100,000,000 from the World Bank, whose president is now studying the Balkan nation's economy here. Bank Head Eugene Black, has conferred with Premier Marshal Tito and other top officials. He surveyed the Yugoslav provinces today. Black would not say whether recommendations for the loan have been made to the board of directors of the World Bank, of which the United States is the chief backer. Black is known to favor a substantial loan, however.

History Is Taught

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—Residents of suburban Brighton get history lessons with their tax bills. Town Clerk George E. Gordon got the idea of printing the early history of the 136-year-old community on the back of envelopes in which the September school-tax bills were mailed. He promises another history installment in January, when the town-county tax bills go out.

Monarchs of the Moppets

Freckled-faced George Riley, Jr., 13, of Fremont, Neb., and 13-year-old Joan Crawford of Hamilton, Ohio, are the 1930 King and Queen of National Kids' Day. They were selected by judges representing 3,150 Kiwanis clubs for outstanding service to the community. Their reward will be a free trip to Hollywood.

lets would get back to sanity, and many of the post-Korean war price gains would be sliced. At the same time there would be greater consumer resistance to the higher prices now in the cards because of the recent rise in costs.

3 Another thing that might cut consumer buying: Higher taxes might take a bigger slice of the pay check, and another considerable part of the income will be going for payment on the gadgets bought on time at such a record rate. That would leave less money for spot purchases. 4. At the same time, the nation's productive capacity is high and rising. The flood of goods the nation could produce would be the greatest curb of all on inflation.

Those who believe the boom will continue point to the defense program—the war production and the stockpiling and the deficit financing—which will keep some materials short and the money supply high. That, they say, means inflation.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—Hopes for an early ending of the Korean war have sent a peace scare through the commodity markets. The prices of some war-inflated commodities have tumbled. And this has set many businessmen to wondering what would happen to the war boom if—

1. Fighting ends in Korea by the end of the year.

2. Russia doesn't start something somewhere else.

These are "ifs" which no one can answer, only guess about. But if an uneasy peace settles down on the world again, the effect on American consumer psychology, production goals, and commodity prices might change the business picture decidedly.

Others think the force of the inflationary move is too strong to be more than slowed down a bit. They point to the present determination to go on spending heavily for rearmament beyond any need a war confined to Korea would indicate. This, they argue, will keep production high, everybody at work, personal income swollen, and many consumer goods in tight supply.

Can't Roll Back
These observers also contend that prices on finished goods can't roll back very far, because the war has started wage scales rising again. And the rush to buy scarce raw materials at premium prices has added to the costs of many factories and mills.

To prove this they point to a long list of price increases this week-end predictions of price hikes on the way. Pre-Korean war price levels on cars, many predict, will be a thing of the past throughout the entire industry by next year. Hikes on some models already have been announced by Packard and Kaiser-Frazer.

A new world record high price for scoured wool is reported from Australia. Tailors and carpet makers talk of higher prices on suits and rugs to come. And in the garment district they are talking today of a boost soon in the price of sleeping garments, due to rising yarn prices and labor costs.

Higher Prices Predicted
Higher prices of steel are predicted today by Iron Age, a trade weekly, based on expectations the steelworkers will demand a large pay boost.

Rising tanker rates lead some in the oil business to predict higher prices for light fuel oil for home heating, and heavy oil for industrial use.

But against this list of coming price hikes on finished goods, based on rising costs of raw materials and of labor already on the books, there is the marked uneasiness in the commodity futures markets, braced to the peace scare.

Those who see a chance of deflation around the corner argue this way:

1. A sudden end of the Korean war would lead at once to a slump in civilian buying. Many consumers and manufacturers, too, would live for a while on the goods and raw materials they bought up so avidly this summer.

Back to Sanity
2. With the pressure to buy dropping, world commodity mar-

Plant Food Found By Pretsch Family In New Adventure

This was to have been a story about fertilizer. It has become the story of a way of life. It is a tale of adventure at home.

Setting for this tale is the shores of beautiful Lake Katrine. Here lives Mrs. William H. Pretsch, Sr., her sons, William H. and Vincent W. Pretsch, and Vincent's wife, Frances.

The lake on which they live was once a popular location for church picnics and other events. It resembles in miniature famous Lake George. But it had been little used and its shores had become overgrown and almost devoid of habitation until about 10 years ago, when the Pretsch family purchased an old homestead and cleared away land for a garden. Today there are more families living there but it still is an unspoiled and almost secluded spot, in spite of the fact that it is only a mile from busy Route 9W.

The Pretsch brothers, sons of the late Rev. William H. Pretsch, former pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church of this city, renovated the entire house, putting new paneling in the living room, installing a large picture window. They blasted away some rock along the shore, built poultry and rabbit houses.

"They became interested in composting processes, and have been obtaining amazing results by converting rabbit and poultry waste, garbage, leaves, dead poultry, rabbits and other materials into plant food."

"The waste is converted rapidly and easily in a cabinet of special design that anyone can construct. Plans can be obtained from several firms that manufacture activated composting, a powder sprinkled on the waste to hasten its conversion."

Spraying Not Needed
The use of this plant food makes for healthy plants able to withstand disease and insect damage. In fact, the Pretsch garden contains unusually well developed specimens, and they claim they never have to spray. The only pest they are bothered by is the Japanese beetle. So far, they have found no better way of combating that pest than picking the bugs off by hand and destroying them.

The important part of these experiments is that waste that is ordinarily a total loss can be converted to plant food. It is a vital phase of conservation. Commenting on the importance of the process, T. A. Loveland of New York, head of a firm that specializes in composting process and agricultural research, wrote: "I believe that this phase of conservation is of such importance that people should know about the possibilities, and particularly when it is developed by some one in the community."

The rabbit waste used in making the fertilizer comes from about 100 angora rabbits.

Food In Scarcity
The long, silky hair of the valued angora rabbits is plucked by hand by the brothers and spun on an antique spinning wheel by their mother and by Mrs. Vincent Pretsch. The two ladies then hand knit or crochet such fine articles as mittens and scarves.

The room in which the spinning is done is a nicely furnished, plain room with a large picture window overlooking the lake. The spinning wheel is placed beside a large fireplace. A contrast to the old spinning wheel is the television set a few feet away, assembled by William Pretsch, first of a commercially-made kit. Vincent Pretsch says reception is good.

These are some of the activities in the Pretsch household. They raise and sell their surplus fertilizer for sale. They raise their own vegetables. They sell a few of their handmade angora products. They sell other angora wool to wholesale houses. They pack and sell a small quantity of rabbit meat, they raise poultry.

All Activities
What really makes this interesting, however, is that all these activities are avocations. William Pretsch is a chiropractor with offices in Kingston on Pearl Street. Vincent Pretsch is chair out a reporter work under Harold Styles, and his wife, Frances, is a nurse. The family name originally was Pretsch and that form was used by the late Rev. Mr. Pretsch. However, because it proved misleading to pronounce, the sons have omitted the letter 't'.

Pictorial Views of Home Adventure

After this treatment, Mrs. Pretsch knits or crochets such fine articles as mittens and scarves. In the lower photo, Vincent Pretsch is at work near his self-styled composting cabinet which rapidly converts rabbit, poultry waste and other materials into plant food. (Freeman Photos)

SHOCKING ANNOUNCEMENT!

A reputable old firm of engravers sent me a card reading: Mary Brown Newcomb announces that on May tenth she was granted a divorce by Judge Wisacre from Richard W. Newcomb at home 22 Washington street.

The letter of the engravers further explained: "We ourselves have never made anything like this and I doubt that we would. I suppose though, in the present day, it is not impossible to imagine use of such announcements. We would be interested to know your feelings in the matter."

As already noted in my headline, I can't imagine anything more shocking, and I do hope that you will use your prestige to check its spread!

Incorrect Use Of Name

Dear Mrs. Post: What should one do when it is well known that a friend, who is now a widow, is calling herself Mrs. Mary Smith and not formerly Mrs. John Smith? It goes against the grain to address her incorrectly but can one ignore her own personal preference?

Answer: Not if you know definitely that this is her own preference! It could, however, be that she (like many other widows) has simply given in to what other people suppose to be correct.

No Cause For Wife's Grievance

Dear Mrs. Post: Am I just touchy or is it improper for my husband to be asked to take part in a wedding and for me, his wife, to be left out entirely?

Answer: Your words "Just touchy" perfectly explain the situation. You should, of course, be invited to the wedding and to its reception, but is not incorrect or even discourteous not to include you in the bridal party.

Ushers In Wedding Procession

Dear Mrs. Post: Will the ushers have to walk in my wedding procession at a church wedding?

Answer: Certainly, if you are having ushers.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but one of her many leaflets to help you is E-25, which gives a variety of party menus including a sit-down wedding breakfast or dinner. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. William Jackson, retiring president. The program included community singing, led by Warren Smith, and games under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. John Garrison, and Mr. and Mrs. George Miller. The Rev. Mr. Peckham presented slides featuring autumn scenes.

Committees included Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carlo, refreshments; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Ryder, reception.

The next meeting of the club will be October 10 at the church.

Dr. J. I. Gifford Speaks at Banquet of Catskill Glee Club

The fifth annual banquet of the Catskill Glee Club was held Tuesday evening at the Kiskadee Reformed Church in Kiskadee with more than 70 members and guests attending from many Hudson Valley communities. Guest speaker was Dr. Julian I. Gifford, president of Kingston's Mendelssohn Club.

Discussing the role of music in world civilization, Dr. Gifford afforded one of the few serious notes of the evening which was devoted chiefly to fellowship, humor and song. Director Roland L. Hirschman announced that rehearsal for the club's extensive concert season would begin next Monday at the Catskill Baptist Church at 8 p. m.

Frank Husky of Catskill presided as toastmaster after a welcome had been extended by the new club president, Bob P. Saxe, and after Don Fellows, club historian, gave an account of the club's activities last year on the road and at home.

A fricassee chicken dinner was served by the ladies of the church, with blessing by the Rev. John Van Heest pastor. Songmaster Gene Keyser led the group through some popular numbers, and then introduced the Glee Club Trio—composed of guest Edgar Van Olinda, music critic of the Albany Times Union, Marty Henig of Hudson and Mr. Keyser. Mr. Van Olinda was presented with an honorary life membership in the club.

Uncovering of "hidden talent" produced a trumpet solo by the Rev. Vernon Nagel, and a violin solo by Nelson Parks—neither of whom had touched their instruments for years.

The program wound up with an impromptu "miniature minstrel" show and a quiz contest. John Kelly was interlocutor for the minstrel, with Harry Russell, Charles C. Brodhead, Charles Hudson and Glenn Gentner as premier and secondary end men. The singing of "God Bless America" and "Star Spangled Banner" concluded the evening.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

George Salutes
An Iowa Player

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The players out here have been intrigued by your tales of "Generous Georges exploits," writes a Des Moines correspondent. "Maybe this hand will show you what I mean."

"West opened his singleton trump, expecting that South would try to ruff his diamonds in dummy. He hoped to cut down dummy's ruffing power so that the diamonds could not be established."

"South won the opening lead in his own hand and realized that he could not ruff all of his diamonds in the dummy, especially since the opponents would surely lead additional trumps whenever they got in. He therefore decided to establish dummy's clubs."

"After drawing three rounds of trumps, South led a club from his hand and played the queen from dummy. It was at this point that East remembered the example of Generous George and decided to live and let live."

Following these generous principles East played the ten of clubs, allowing dummy's queen to hold the trick. This left declarer with no play for his contract.

He led a diamond to his ace and led another club towards dummy in the hope that West had the ace. This hope was dashed when East took the ace of clubs.

East promptly began the spades, and Southuffed the second round. He could get to dummy only once. This was enough to establish dummy's clubs but not enough to cash the good cards in that suit.

I am sure you will notice that declarer would have made his contract if East had taken the first club with the ace. South would then be able to take the second club trick with dummy's king and ruff a club, thus establishing the rest of the suit. Dummy's queen of hearts would then furnish entry for the rest of the clubs.

"We'd like to know what George thinks about this?" George sends his congratulations to East, but he was not so complimentary about South's method of playing the hand. The trouble was that South drew the trumps too quickly.

After winning the opening lead, South should go after the clubs immediately. East might refuse to take the ace at once (still his best play) but South would find it easy to get to the dummy as often as he liked with trumps.

For example, if East refused the ace of clubs, declarer could take the ace of diamonds and lead another club. East would win and lead spades, South ruffing the second round. Declarer would lead a trump to dummy's ten, ruff a club, and then enter dummy with the queen of hearts to run the clubs.

Truman Backs Taft Attack by Harriman

Washington, Sept. 21 (AP)—President Truman said today he subscribes to what W. Averell Harriman said about Senator Taft (R-Ohio) that Taft's actions have furthered the designs of the Kremlin.

Replying to a news conference question, Mr. Truman said that yes, he does subscribe to Harriman's attack on the Ohio senator, made in a speech to the American Federation of Labor convention at Houston, Texas, on Tuesday.

Harriman, presidential foreign policy adviser, attacked Taft's record on foreign affairs.

Mr. Truman was asked whether he knew of any Democratic senators with a record to equal or surpass Taft's. He said he did and that he thinks there were more Republicans who voted right than there were Democrats who went wrong. America's is still a bi-partisan foreign policy, he said.

Glasco Band Plays At Religious Event

The Glasco School Band, which began a year and a half ago under direction of Antonio Merola, had a big day Sept. 16 when it played for the San Gennaro feast, an outstanding Italian religious event, in New York.

The Board of Education, Glasco School District No. 9, engaged Merola as music teacher and the band was functioning shortly after he began working with the youngsters.

During its recent New York appearance the band was on television while drilling under direction of Maynard Cook. Their appearance there was through approval of John A. Cole, president, and Michael Marchunk, secretary of the Musicians Protective Union, Local 215, Kingston.

Merola in 1938 taught various drum corps on Staten Island under direction of L. T. Kelly, sponsored by the Police Athletic League, and one of the drum corps held championship honors in Staten Island and vicinity for three years. In 1939 Merola was chosen among 20 other music teachers to start another drum corps in the boys' club of East side, 14th street, New York.

Merola also is director of the Woodstock Drum Corps and also was selected by the Kingston Lions Club committee to direct the new Lions Drum Corps.

The committee in charge of the Glasco Band is L. Brink, A. DePaola, M. Aiello and L. Macchione.

Pear Tree Is 120 Years Old

Jerseyville, Ill. (AP)—A fruit tree which has stood here for 120 years is still producing pears. This season's yield was not as heavy as usual, however, because of cold spring weather. Ray Nevius, the owner, has nursed the tree through several bad spells. A few years ago he thought it was finished, by a tornado which broke off its larger branches. He gave it a good pruning, and the tree perked up.

Sydney, Australia, Sept. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Betty Sara's quads—who took 50 hours coming into the world—are making up for lost time. Their 28-year-old mother, an English war bride, has left the hospital. Doctors said the quads probably will be sent home this week. 2. On furniture articles priced at $100, or over, you need pay only 10% down. Most customers have paid at least that without regulations.
3. On appliance articles priced at $100, or over, you need pay only 15% down.
4. Items, both furniture and appliances, priced at less than $100 are not subject to any down payment regulation. These articles may be purchased on the same down payment plan you used previously.
5. You have up to a year and a half (18 months) to pay for your purchases, but you must pay at least $1.25 weekly or $5 monthly.
6. Some items are not included in the regulation at all. Heaters, dishes, draperies and many others are in this group.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD B. THIRAUT, JR.
Works on Southern Scene

Woodstock, Sept. 21—Alfred Huty is seen working on one of his famous Charleston scenes. Huty will leave this week for his winter home in South Carolina.

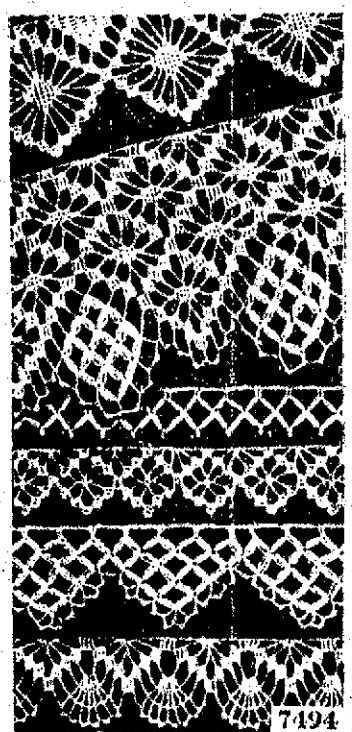

Woodstock Change
Noted by Artist

Woodstock, Sept. 21—“Woodstock has changed a great deal since the early days when the artist first came here,” is a frequently heard comment in this vicinity. One of those who knows exactly how much it has changed is Alfred Huty, who first came to Woodstock as a young art student in 1907. Since that time he has won an international reputation as both water color painter and etcher. He continues each year to alternate his time between summers on “Broadview,” his Olney Mt. farm and his home during the winter in Charleston, S. C., where he will return this week for the winter.

Building in the comfortable studio living room of “Broadview” which overlooks a distant view of the Catskill range to the north, Mr. and Mrs. Huty reminisced about the time when Woodstock first became known as an art colony. Since Mrs. Huty came with him at that time, she contributed her vivid memories as well.

One of the original directors of the Woodstock Artists Association, along with George Bellows and Eugene Speicher, Huty was one of the first of the artists to buy one of the old farms, which at that time was considered “ miles away from town.” It was the Wesley France sheep farm, originally built by his great-grandfather. The Hutys bought it on a cold, moonlit Thanksgiving night after viewing it from the foot of the pasture without even seeing the interior. It was simply “the place” Huty found after a long search. Since then the original house and two barns have undergone extensive changes.

around on my head, so I looked inside and there was a hornet's nest!”

Often referred to as the “poet of line and color” Huty is particularly well known for his water colors, dry paints and etchings of South Carolina in which he has caught its old world charm and picturesque antiquity. The most famous is probably his prize-winning etching “Deep South,” a rhythmic composition depicting a negro man and woman plodding home beneath ancient moss hung oaks. It was included in a picture series, “Prize Prints of America,” in the New York Times magazine. Represented in the leading museums, galleries and private collections in this country and in Europe, Huty painted for 20 years before he etched, although he had always been interested in pencil drawings. The winner of numerous prizes for both his etchings and water colors, he studied lithography with Bolton

Brown at the same time George Bellows was a student.

One of his portraits appeared in recent years on the cover of Time Magazine. Possessing all of the requisites of a first-rate portrait painter, he could have become equally famous in the portrait field had he so chosen. He has elected, however, to devote the street scenes, byways and colorful life of the deep south using them with his particular understanding, sensitiveness and humor.

Tigers in Best Position of Three Contenders to Take Over Top Berth

Bosox Suffer Severe Jolt by Losing Pair

By RALPH BODEN

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The final chapter of the American League pennant race opens today and, like a good "who-dun-it," the solution is anybody's guess.

Of the three contenders, the second-place Detroit Tigers appear to be in the best position to take charge.

The Tigers play single games today and tomorrow while the league-leading New York Yankees and the third-place Boston Red Sox are idle. Victories in both of these games will put the Tigers in first place.

In addition, the Tigers have another advantage as four of the Red Sox and Yankees' 10 remaining games are against each other. They start to knock each other off in the Yankee Stadium Saturday while the Tigers are in Cleveland.

The Tigers entertain the Philadelphia Athletics today with Freddie Hutchinson pitching against little Bobby Stantz. A victory will show the Bengals into a first place tie with New York. The Tigers then move to Cleveland where they take on the Indians in the opener of a three game series tomorrow night.

Here's the picture at a glance:

	W	L	Pct.	GB	CL
New York	91	53	.632	...	10
Detroit	90	53	.627	1 1/2	11
Boston	89	55	.618	2	10

Detroit kept close on the heels of the Yanks yesterday by nailing out the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-2.

The New Yorkers, turned back the Chicago White Sox, 4-1. The Red Sox, however, suffered a severe jolt as they dropped a doubleheader to the Cleveland Indians, 6-3 and 7-1.

The Tigers had a rough time before the A's succumbed. They trailed by 4-1 until the eighth, when they won the game with a two run springer against Bob Hoover. Chester Keller started things with a one-out single. He

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Bagatelles:

Tom "Tiger" Davis, our favorite amateur boxer, dropped in to say hello, en route to a hitch with the Navy. Somehow or other, the Tiger's appearance impressed upon us the fact that not even Joe Louis can popularize Ezzard Charles in the fight that is being fought for the sheriff. Peter Keizer, of 35 Henry street, captured first prize in the Wylie Fishing Contest for August with the whopping 16-pound, 12-ounce rainbow trout he landed in Seneca Lake. The giant specimen also figures to cop the annual award.

A survey shows that compared to last year the number of $2 and $100 bets at Hialeah Park increased, while the $5, $10 and $50 wagers declined. There undoubtedly is a profound economic lesson in there somewhere.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

For a long while the experts contended that the National League (football) was superior to the All American Conference. The Cleveland Browns changed all that Saturday night in Philly. Paul Brown's crew proved that once the whistle blows, they don't care what league they're in. For a Motley crew, they seem to be well organized. Just in case you're interested, Joe Louis eats only two meals a day while in training for the Charles box. Breakfast at 10 a. m. consists of prune juice, eggs, liver toast and tea. Dinner at 5 p. m. embraces soup, salad, steak, chicken or chops, fresh vegetables and tea, with some ice cream for dessert. The ice cream is out for the week before the fight. . . . Elwyn V. Harp, former New Paltz High Bash, is a freshman football candidate at Union College. And the trustees of the William M. Fischer Law Tennis Library would like to receive contributions of old scrapbooks, club minute books, photographs, etc. If you have any such tennis bric-a-brac, send it to the Library, 120 Broadway, Room 3655, New York City.

Big Joe Garland, the George Preston Marshall of Saugerties, accosted us on a golf course a few days before the "Old Timers" game in Saugerties.

"Gabby Benjamin asked me to remind you about the time you went in as a relief pitcher against Saugerties and couldn't get the side out, is that true?"

"That's right, Joe, but don't forget to ask El Gabbo if he recalls the day Chief Richter stalked out to the diamond, with the score about 20-3 in the Giants' favor and led his boys to safety about the sixth inning."

"That's enough," said the Chief on that historic day.

The Sportsmen's Corner:

Although the records show that the number of fishermen partaking of their favorite sport falls off considerably in September, this shouldn't be so. Conversely, the size of the fish caught in September indicates that the big lunkers go on the prowl for food from now on. Cool weather means cool water, that not only improves fishing conditions, but also stimulates the fighting power of every fish you hook. Posing-the-wind anglers who are willing to discount the discomforts the weather man has to offer during September and October, are not only in for some good sport, but stand an excellent chance of minding the fighting acquaintance of a real record breaker. . . . According to the Conservation Department, pheasants will be more plentiful this season but still far off the peak. Partridge seems to be at the top of their cycle and are to be found in good numbers in most of the usual country. Rabbits, plenty of them. Lots of snags in the Adirondack and Catskill regions. Gray squirrels should be at about the normal number.

Nell DuBois, manager of numerous Y.M.C.A. basketball champions, recalls that it was just ten years ago that his Central Lunch squad copped the City Junior softball pennant. We might add that softball enjoyed a considerably higher stature in the local sports realm then than it does today. With a seasonal record of 20 wins and 6 losses, the Centrals shipped the Bruins in the playoff of a split season. They were the only team to beat the Bruins at Forsyth Park. Some of the boys on the Central team at the time, besides Nell, were Maurice Amarello, Don McGrane, Jimmy Dugan, Jr. (deceased), Art Olivet, Bruce Snyder, Billy Werner, John Rowland, Clarence Studt, Bob Bradley and Don DuBois.

Wonder what Big Joe Mahar says when he meets a New York Giant roster these days?

Eddie Ford New 'Golden Boy' in Majors; Gives Up 12 Hits in Last Three Starts

Chicago, Sept. 21 (AP)—Eddie Ford, the unbeaten rookie left-hander, is the "golden boy" of the New York Yankees' pennant drive. The 21-year-old kid from the sandlots of Astoria, Long Island, looks like the Yanks' good luck charm. He has started 11 times since he came up from Kansas City July 1 and the Yanks have won every time.

Ford was credited with eight of the victories, including six complete games and two shutouts.

Following a sparkling effort at Detroit Saturday with yesterday's three-single 8-1 job against Chicago, Ford is the hottest thing in either league.

In his last three starts "the kid" has allowed a total of 12 hits and three runs. In addition to that 27-inning string he has two hitless relief innings in Cleveland.

And this is a youngster with only three previous years in organized ball, making the big jump from Binghamton, N. Y., to the Class A Eastern League to the majors in one year.

Ford made the spring training trip with the Yanks this spring, signed to a Kansas City contract—some elbow held him back and he was sent to Kansas City on schedule. When Stengel ran into pitching troubles in July, they gave Whitey the hurry-up sign. He came running.

Almost Mixed Game

He was almost too late yesterday, however. Whitey thought it was a 2:30 p. m. game and took his time getting ready. He missed batting practice and practically worked on an empty stomach after a hurried breakfast.

Ford's victory protected a half-game lead for the Yankees over Detroit and sent them two full games ahead of the Boston Red Sox, who lost a doubleheader to Cleveland yesterday.

His performance was the talk of the ball club as the Yanks rode home from their last western tour, still holding the American League lead. Open dates today and tomorrow separate them from a two-game set with Boston at Yankee Stadium Saturday and Sunday.

With Vic Raschi a doubtful factor because of his sore arm, Ford

Giants Buy Pete Pavlick From Jersey City Club

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—The New York Giants today announced the purchase of second baseman Pete Pavlick from Jersey City and the outright sale of outfielder Pete Milne to Minneapolis.

Both minor league clubs belong in the Giant farm system. Pavlick is 24, a native of Bayonne, N. J., and batted .270 in Jersey City. He led the International League in stolen bases with 22.

Milne, who is 24, received try-outs with the Giants for the past two springs, and has been playing with Minneapolis since July of this year.

The Freeman Bowling League keglers will launch their 1930-31 season tonight at the bowling tournament starting at 7 o'clock. Secretary Bob Steeger announced this morning.

Randy Kelder continued to pace the Central Rec Major League firing this week when he blasted a cool 598 series Wednesday night at the Railroad avenue track.

Kelder unloaded a fine string of 226-177-193 to nip Fred Spaulding's 597 triple. Spaulding posted 199-201-197.

Also in the 590 bracket were Cliff Quick with 211-215 for 594 and George Robinson 215-201-591.

Other top efforts included Larry Weishaupt with 219-588; Edward Robinson 212-203-585; and "Boots" Leskie 226-583.

Despite all of the nifty pinning, however, perhaps the biggest news of all to come out of the night's activities was the term announcement that Bob Hanley had returned to bowling action once more. "The Kid" hit for 210-173 for a 393 double. He had a perfect game in his first try.

R. Hutchins 416 triple paced the Chateaux Women's action at the Chateaux lane this week. Her pace-setting series included sticks of 147-145-124.

Others in the 400 class included D. Joyce with 407; L. Tremblin 405; and Edie Blakely 403.

It was Lane Schatzel again leading the pack in the Colonial Women's League Wednesday night at the Bowlinggreen. Mrs. Schatzel scored sticks of 194-167-198 for a pace-setting 563 series.

In the runner-up spot was Evelyn Cross who fired 174-201-169 for 544. The only other 500 was turned in by Matilda Bruck who hit 504.

Other top-notch scores in the Gold Division included B. Ford 211-493; Helen Bordenstein 490; Ada Markle 478; Evelyn Doherty 474; Mary Wynn 467; Bertha Schaller 463; and Kay Broadhead 462.

Grace Strother's 430 triple topped the Silver Division pin-busting last night. M. Bechtold posted 429; M. Davis 424; and A. Mitchell 423.

Johnny Zech and Nick Bruck emerged in a hat-footed tie for top honors in the C.Y.O. session.

Wednesday night at the Bowlinggreen drives.

Zech fired a string of 195-146-179 for his 520 series while Bruck came in with 175-159-186. The only other 500 was Joe Fautz who hit 519.

Prior to the start of league action last night, Joe Watzka was elected president of the league. Other officers are Jim Noble, treasurer, and Ed Schupp, secretary. All elections were unanimous. The league will be in action every Wednesday at 7 p. m. Entries for two additional teams are now open. The C.Y.O. is affiliated with the American Bowling Congress.

Sandwiching a 201 game in between counts of 113 and 170, Kay Roesa spearheaded the Pioneer Women's activities at the Bowlinggreen Wednesday night with a 484 series.

Jane Pearson was in the runner-up spot with 450; N. Glennon 429; L. Cameron 410.

A C.Y.O. Ladies' League for parishes of Ulster county will get underway at the Bowlinggreen Thursday, Sept. 28, at 7 p. m. Five teams have been entered to date representing St. Peter's, St. Mary's, St. Columba's, Presentation Church and the Immaculate Conception. One more entry will be accepted. A short business meeting will precede the matches on Sept. 28 at which time officers will be elected.

The City League will open September 25 with Jake's Grill vs. Columbia's Tavern on Allys 5 and 6 and the Colonials vs. Wining and Smith on Allys 7 and 8 at the Central Recs. New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Tonia Elizabeth Miller, 32, of 12 Fifth avenue was found dead yesterday lying fully dressed across a bed in the Fifth Avenue Hotel, with a partially empty bottle of poison on a nearby table, police said. Her death was listed as an apparent suicide by detectives. No motive was known. Detectives said she left a sealed note for her husband, Oscar J. Miller, a consulting chemical engineer with the National Lead Company and the Winslow Paint and Color Company of Long Island City.

Fisher Is Named Leader of County Social Agencies

Henry J. Fisher of Kingston, case supervisor of the Ulster County Welfare Department, was elected president of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies at the council's annual meeting Wednesday morning at the Y.W.C.A.

Fisher succeeds Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce. Kurdt served as president of the council since its organization in April, 1949. Other officers were re-elected. They are Clarence S. Rowland of Kingston, first vice-president; Mrs. Virgil DeWitt of New Paltz, second vice-president; Miss Claire Kelly of Kingston, secretary; and Myron D. Keefe of Hurley, treasurer. Miss Kelly represents Catholic Charities, and Keefe represents the local Boy Scout council. Rowland and Mrs. DeWitt are members-at-large.

There were 18 organizations represented at Wednesday's meeting. The council works through three divisions—health, welfare and recreation. Reports of the activities of each division were read at the meeting.

The next general meeting of the organization will be held in January at a date to be announced by the president. The executive board was authorized to plan for a dinner meeting. The treasurer was authorized to procure membership certificates to be issued to each member organization or agency.

Albert Kurdt reminded those present that the Chamber of Commerce welcomes all organizations to report dates of any affairs to that office so that they may be coordinated against possible conflicts. He said that unless a greater percentage of organizations make use of this service, it is of little value. It was announced at the meeting that the Ulster County Mental Health Committee, a subdivision of the Tuberculosis and Health Association, is planning a professional workers institute to be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel beginning October 25.

Activities of the past year were reviewed. These activities included the survey of recreational needs and facilities, a welfare survey which showed greater need for shelter care for children, and compilation of a card index listing of all social agencies in the county.

Talk Is Cheap in Energy

New York (AP)—The power of the spoken word is pretty slight, in one sense. If New York's 8,000,000 people were all to speak at one time, the total power they would generate with the energy of their talking would be just enough to light a 60-watt lamp. Prof. Arthur R. Lauffer of the University of Missouri writes in the magazine "Physics Today."

Gambling Figure Retains Attorney; Bail Is $250,000

New York, Sept. 21 (AP)—Harry Gross, head of a $20,000,000 a year gambling syndicate, has hired a lawyer, dashing the hopes of a prosecutor that he will reveal immediately any tie-up with high-ranking policemen.

Gross yesterday hired Hyman Barshay, a criminal lawyer who has defended many policemen. Held in $250,000 bail in King's county civil prison, Gross has refused thus far to identify police with whom he said he was "associated" in the bookmaking business. The stocky, worried bookmaker told Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz in a private conference Tuesday night that if he identified any of the policemen there would be "a terrible scandal."

His hiring of a lawyer was a rebuff to the pleas of his wife, Lila, Judge Leibowitz and Brooklyn District Attorney Miles F. McDonald to break down and tell all. Gross was arrested last Friday night along with more than a score of others.

The first thing Barshay is expected to do is to try to get Gross's record $250,000 bail reduced.

If lower bail is sought, McDonald said, "I will personally contest it."

Gross's younger brother, Jack, who worked for him and was arrested on a bookmaking charge, raised $10,000 bail yesterday and was released under bond. Another Gross employee, Murray Michaelson, had his bail reduced from $50,000 to $5,000 and was released with the admonition from Leibowitz that he be closely guarded as a key witness.

The only legal measures McDonald can use against Gross are wiretap recordings monitored by the prosecutor's investigators and a possible contempt charge based on his refusal to testify before the grand jury investigating gambling.

Only Misdemeanors

But these are only misdemeanors. Legal sources believed that Gross, if convicted, could have to serve only three years at the most.

McDonald said that contrary to a statement by Police Commissioner William P. O'Brien, Irving Goldstein, a Gross stooge, had submitted to "accommodation" arrest last Thursday.
